OFFICIALS MEET PARTY AT TRAIN

Chief Justice Hughes and Other Colleagues Accompany Body From Washington to Tennessee Home

By the Associated Press.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., March 10.—Hundreds of friends of his early years met the train bearing the body of Edward Terry Sanford, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, when it arrived here at 1:45 this afternoon.

Members of the local bar and city officials escorted Mrs. Sanford and other members of the funeral party to waiting automobiles for the trip to Greenwood cemetery. There funeral services were held.

Hundreds of Knoxville citizens lined the streets through which the cortege moved.

A delegation from the Supreme Court, consisting of Chief Justice Hughes and Justices McReynolds, Butler and Stone attended the ceremonies.

The body of the jurist left Washington last night for Knoxville, where Justice Sanford was born 64 years ago. The Supreme Court delegation which accompanied it will return to Washington immediately after the ceremony to participate in rites for the late Chief Justice.

Representative and Mrs. Fisher of Tennessee, the latter Justice Sanford's sister, also accompanied the body.

North Carolina Judge and Owen J. Roberts attended.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—President Hoover will have the names of United States Circuit Judge John J. Parker of Charlotte, N. C., and Owen J. Roberts of Philadelphia, special Government oil counsel, prominently before him when he turns to the task of selecting a successor to Justice Sanford of the Supreme Court.

Circumstances combine to project Judge Parker as a logical choice. He is regarded as one of the ablest lawyers in the South, and figured as a Cabinet contender when Hoover took office. President Coolidge put Parker on the circuit bench Oct. 3, 1923. An Justice Sanford was from Tennessee, the Southern Republicans think Hoover will turn to the South in filling the vacancy.

The belief is that Mr. Hoover will not appoint anyone from New York or Massachusetts since each now has two men on the Supreme Court bench. Attorney General Mitchell has been mentioned, but to select him would give two places to Minnesota and would put two law partners on the bench, since Justice Butler of St. Paul and Mitchell were in the same firm.

It is doubtful whether Roberts would be available. He has declined offers for other Government positions.

Others mentioned in the gossip heard here are John W. Davis of West Virginia, Democratic presidential nominee; Judge Charles E. Bogah, Judge William S. Kenyon of the Circuit Court and a former Republican Senator from Iowa, and Calvin Coolidge. Some Senators have indicated they will continue to oppose the nomination of a successor who would increase the dominant conservative majority with which Justice Sanford was associated. There now are five Republicans and three Democrats on the bench.

Opinions by Justice Sanford, during his term of office, Justice Sanford delivered his opinions. He was regarded as one of the court's most conservative members and during his entire service delivered only one dissenting opinion.

Among the more important cases in which the court's decision was written by Justice Sanford are the Okanoan, in which the power of the President to pocket veto was sustained; the Evereds Brewery Co., in which the Court held that physicians could not legally prescribe beer.

In the Liberty Warehouse case from Kentucky he sustained the validity of State contracts regulating co-operative marketing and, in the Bedford cut-stone case, he handed down an important labor decision, which had the broad effect of regulating agreements between labor unions in the handling of material affected by a strike. He also wrote the decision sustaining state syndicalism laws in proceedings brought from California by Anita Whitney.

Dr. Cook Released From Prison

DR. FREDERICK A. COOK.

DR. COOK FREE, WILL STUDY 'NEW SCIENCE'

Leaves Prison for Chicago Where He Plans Research to Aid Narcotic Addicts.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 10.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, who claims to have discovered the North Pole in 1908, was released from the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth late yesterday, was driven in an automobile to this city and departed for Chicago last night. He was released on parole from a sentence of 14 years and nine months imposed upon him at Fort Worth, Tex., for using the mails to sell allegedly fake oil stock.

In Chicago Cook will work and study with Dr. P. F. Thompson, a lifelong friend to whom he will be accountable during the period of the parole, which expires in 1935. Cook expects to study and work toward creation of a new science, which he calls "cellular therapy." His study would be aimed, he said, at a better understanding of the anatomy, physiology and pathology of all the cells of the body.

Such study, he thinks, is necessary before physicians can cope with narcotic degeneration. "For five years," he said, "I have lived in close contact with an average of 1000 of the worst narcotic addicts the world produces. They taught me more than I was able to teach them."

Still asserting that he reached the Pole, Cook declared he does not intend to engage in any argumentative discussions to establish his claims, nor is he going to attempt to prove his claim to the topping of Mount McKinley—another honor which he claimed and which was a target for criticism. Cook said he would "never have anything to do with any more stocks as long as he lived." He declared he lost all his money in the oil venture, that nothing was saved from the crash. He had $60 in his billfold when he left Kansas City. He said that was all the money he had to start life over again at the age of 65.

Going to Rest While Before Declaring Upon Future Career.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 10.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook returned to Chicago today. "Emerging from the doom and gloom of Leavenworth, which to me has been an idle of rest for five years, a new world appears," the former explorer said. "Coming from the jungle on penitentiary, we must for some time feel like wild animals who have lost their way."

"I am tired and for awhile I am going to rest. Then I will decide upon a future career. Probably, I will go back to Fort Worth after a few months in Chicago. I wish to have some literary work I wish to finish and then I will conclude some researches begun."

FORD BUYS GEORGIA PLANTATION

By the Associated Press.

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 10.—Henry Ford has purchased the famous old Yallahbroia plantation, 14 miles from Savannah, and has increased his real estate holdings in this vicinity to 25,000 acres. It was announced here today.

The price paid for the Yallahbroia homesteaded, not announced, but J. L. Budreau, from whom Ford bought the plantation, said the property was valued at $140,000.

The plantation has between 4000 and 5000 acres and has a five-mile frontage on the Ogeechee River directly across the stream from Ford's property in Bryan County.

SENATE COALITION REORGANIZING FOR TARIFF BILL FIGHT

Progressive-Democratic Group Now Attempting to Collect Forces and Halt Grundy's Log-Rolling

By PAUL V. ANDERSON, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—With the Senate in recess yesterday because of the death of former President Taft, leaders of the Progressive-Democratic coalition have two days in which to reorganize their scattered forces and prepare for a final attempt to halt the log-rolling combination which has been advancing through a succession of high tariff triumphs.

Events of the last week left no doubt that the Old Guard is again definitely in the saddle, and unless something is done to smash the vote-swapping campaign engineered by Senator (Old Joe) Grundy, a whole series of reversals comparable to those on sugar and cement is in prospect.

Among the important commodities on which the Senate has refused tariff increases in the last six months, but which are to be offered again by "Grundy's gang" are lumber, oil, pig iron, aluminum, glass and hides. Of these, oil, lumber and hides have been somewhat definitely identified as being involved in the trade by which the sugar increase was put across.

It has been estimated in the Senate that adoption of all the proposed increases would add more than $1,000,000,000 a year to the cost of living in the United States. It is calculated that the sugar and cement increases, already adopted, will add, respectively, $30,000,000 and $100,000,000 to the consumers' burden, the proposed increase on glass would raise the retail cost approximately $15,000,000, and that the lumber increase would add about $50,000,000 more.

Oil Tariff Most Important. But by far the most important among the proposed tariffs, from the public's standpoint, is that on oil. It has been calculated that a duty of 80 cents a barrel on crude petroleum would add at least $720,000,000 a year to the sale price, and that by the time this was expanded over gasoline and refined products the total would be twice that amount.

Although oil has been a keystone in the vote-swapping program, it is recognized that prospects for a duty on oil are all manner than on some other products. Imposition of a tariff on oil would require a switch of seven votes from the last roll call, when the vote was 42 to 29 against taking it off the free list. Realizing this, "oil Senators" are making strenuous efforts to obtain a vote switch.

Dr. Pierce's favorite: "What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?" from the eighth verse of the sixth chapter of Micah.

During the day the American Bar Association announced through its secretary, William B. MacCracken, a former Assistant Secretary of Commerce, a committee to represent it at the funeral, Mr. Taft was a member of the association for more than a half century and was its president in 1913 and 1914. The committee includes John W. Davis, Chester I. Long, Charles S. Whitman, William F. MacCracken, Edward A. Armstrong, William C. Coleman, Thomas W. Shelton, Edward A. Harriman, Peter G. Joyce, Hampton Gary, Walter C. Egan, and George Maurice Morris.

TAFT'S BODY TO LIE IN CAPITOL BEFORE CHURCH SERVICE

Jackets and a squadron of cavalry will comprise the escort. At Arlington Cemetery another military detachment, under command of Col. Guy P. Henry, commander of Fort Myer, Va., will await arrival of the funeral party and join the funeral procession.

Both these units will participate in the firing of final salutes as the body is lowered into the grave. The place of interment was chosen yesterday by Mrs. Taft and their three children, Mrs. Helen Taft Manning and Charles P. and Robert A. Taft. It lies high upon a wooded hillside overlooking the Potomac River, beyond which the city can be seen, with the White House and Capitol plainly visible.

The two sons of Mr. Taft joined their mother and sister yesterday, coming on from Cincinnati, O., as soon as word of their father's death reached them. Mrs. Manning had been in the city almost continuously for several weeks.

President and Mrs. Hoover yesterday sent a huge basket of tulips, crocuses and yellow spring blooms. The congregation with which Mr. Taft worshipped sent a large basket of lilies.

"Virtually the entire nation will be able to hear the Taft funeral service by radio through a chain of broadcasting stations. The hook-up will include both the Columbia and the National Broadcasting Systems. It will be the second time the funeral of a distinguished American has been broadcast from Washington. The funeral of William Jennings Bryan from the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church was similarly broadcast.

Volting the sorrow of the congregation, Dr. Pierce at services yesterday said it "was an inspiration to know that we had in our midst a man who exemplified to the fullest extent the difference between counterfeit and real religion."

"His religion was the real coin that is accepted at its face value in every land," he said. "A noble spirit has been cast from our midst into the invisible and our hearts are touched with sorrow at his passing."

Rare Specimen of Religion. Volving the sorrow of the congregation, Dr. Pierce in an informal statement, described Mr. Taft as "a rare specimen of religion at its best, combining with remarkable breadth of view a profound faith in the Christian religion."

The broad smile and contagious chuckle of the late jurist made him a favorite with the children at the church. Usually he entered as a Sunday schooler and he always had a cheerful word for them. Recently he spoke to the children at a Sunday school service. Dr. Pierce said Mr. Taft had shown great interest in the work of the church and laid the corner stone of the present edifice six years ago. He also was president of the International Congress of Religion.

The change of view which Dr. Pierce believes to have been Mr. Taft's favorite: "What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?" from the eighth verse of the sixth chapter of Micah.

BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT AGAINST MRS. DORIS KRESGE

Fact Disclosed by Refusal of Court to Permit Service of Complaint on Technical Ground.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Supreme Court Justice Alfred H. Townley said today that papers asking permission for Michel Rosenberg to serve a summons and complaint in a breach of promise suit against Mrs. Doris Kresge by publication had been submitted to him. They were rejected, he said, because of a technical error.

Mrs. Kresge is the former wife of S. B. Kresge, operator of 5-and-10 cent stores. She obtained a divorce from Kresge in 1928, after a jury had found him guilty of infidelity.

LIBERTY MUSIC HALL HEAD CITED FOR CONTEMPT

Termination of Oscar Dane's Lease on Premises Authorized by Court.

A citation charging contempt of court was issued today by Circuit Judge Hogan against Oscar Dane, president of the Liberty Music Hall, with which Mr. Edith, and their attorney, Alvin C. Wolff, on a petition filed by receivers for the company, who alleged that Dane had removed property worth $1500 from the Liberty Theater on advice of counsel.

The citation is returnable Thursday. Judge Hogan also authorized Henri Chouteau, owner of the theater building at 3227 Delmar boulevard, to terminate the lease and take possession of the property for nonpayment of rent.

MEXICAN COMMITTEE FAVORS LAW LIMITING LIQUOR TRADE

Production, Sale and Consumption Would Be Restricted Under Recommendation Adopted.

MEXICO CITY, March 10.—Federal legislation to limit the production, sale and consumption of alcohol and of alcoholic drinks, was recommended yesterday to the National Committee Against Alcohol by its Sub-Committee on Legal Measures.

The National Committee, created a year ago by Provisional President Portes Gil, elected President Ortiz Rubio as its honorary president. Dr. Rafael Silva, head of the Federal Health Department, is its president.

CHANGE OF VENUE GRANTED IN SEWER DISTRICT SUIT

Judge Brackman to Hear Motion for Injunction Against Supervisors in Overland.

A change of venue was granted by Circuit Judge Lashly today in the injunction suit filed against the supervisors of the Overland sewer district. The suit will be heard by Circuit Judge Brackman in Division No. 2.

The change of venue was requested by William Heldbrink, one of the supervisors, who alleged prejudice on the part of Judge Lashly. The petition for an injunction restraining the supervisors from going ahead with the sewer program was filed last week following agitation by the Taxpayers' Protective Association.

ASA KEYES ABANDONS APPEAL TO START TERM FOR BRIBERY

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 10.—Asa Keyes, former district attorney of Los Angeles County, who will be taken to San Quentin Penitentiary tomorrow to serve one to 14 years for bribery, has abandoned plans for an appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

Keyes was convicted of accepting bribes from defendants prosecuted for the Julian Petroleum Corporation stock over issue.

Keyes, who served Los Angeles County as a prosecuting official 25 years decided against the appeal, because of lack of immediate funds and because of a desire to start serving his sentence at San Quentin. Keyes already has been at the county jail more than a year, but this time is not taken from his penitentiary sentence.

LOU TELLEGEN WEDS FOR FOURTH TIME

Actor's Bride Is Eva Casanova, Who Has Been Appearing With Him in Vaudeville

By the Associated Press.
ASBURY PARK, N. J., March 10.—Lou Tellegen, actor, and Eva Casanova, an actress who has been appearing with him in vaudeville, were married here yesterday by Martin L. Ferris, a justice of the peace and a retired Baptist minister. Desiree Tabor, musical comedy actress, and Rafaela Diaz, a Metropolitan Opera tenor, were witnesses. It was Tellegen's fourth marriage.

The actor had planned to be married early in the winter, but burns suffered by Tellegen Christmas, when he fell asleep in an Atlantic City hotel while smoking a cigarette, forced a postponement. Miss Casanova formerly was the wife of Minor McLean, an actor. They were divorced a year ago. A divorce last fall ended Tellegen's marriage to Mrs. Isabel Craven Tellegen.

After a two weeks' rest here, Tellegen plans to begin rehearsals for a new production in which his wife will be his leading lady.

His first wife was Countess Jeanne de Brouckere, whom he married in France. Geraldine Farrar, noted singer, was his second wife. They were married Feb. 8, 1918, and were divorced in 1923.

Tellegen came to this country as leading man for Sarah Bernhardt. His mother was a Russian dancer, Anna Maria, teacher of Anna Pavlova, Nijinsky and Isadora Duncan. His father was a Prince of the Greek nobility, who assisted in the formation of the Dutch Java colony.

SHOOTS AND KILLS HIMSELF

Wood River, Ill., Youth Had Borrowed Rifle From Neighbor.

The body of Logan Depew, 22 years old, with a bullet wound in the temple, was found at his home, 139 Penning avenue, Wood River, Ill., at 11 a. m. yesterday. A rifle, which Depew borrowed from a neighbor a short time previously, was beside the body.

The body was found by Depew's mother, Mrs. Edward Mardinger, who heard the shot. She said her son had been in ill-health for the past two years and recently had become despondent. An inquest will be held.

MANILA High Schools Closed.

MANILA, March 10.—Luther B. Bowley, Director of Education, brought Manila's student strike to an abrupt climax today by ordering the East, West, North and South high schools and the Philippine School of Commerce closed, beginning tomorrow. Approximately 10,000 students joined the walkout, which began as the result of a controversy over Miss Mabel Brummitt, American teacher. Miss Brummitt was accused of having insulted the Filipino race in reprimanding some of her students. She was dismissed.

Watchman Killed in Fire.

PRINCETON, Ill., March 10.—Charles Taylor, 68-year-old watchman, died today in a fire that destroyed a section of stables at the Bureau County Fair Grounds. Four horses, the only animals quartered in that section of the barns, were killed. Working on the theory the fire may have been of incendiary origin or caused by a careless act, the Princeton Police held Charles Hanson and Otto Freeberg, both of Princeton, for questioning.

TWO MEN HURT IN EXPLOSION AND FIRE AT GARAGE

Employee Burned at Tire Transfer Co. and Dweller or Upstairs Is Injured in Fall.

An employee was burned seriously and the owner was injured in a fall while escaping with his family from a second-floor living quarters early today, when fire, following the explosion of a gasoline tank, caused $45,000 damage at the Tire Transfer Co., 2223 South Thirtieth street.

John Beckman, 2010 North Twentieth street, was directing a driver backing a truck from the garage. The truck struck a leading platform piled with furniture which toppled over, breaking a pipe leading to an underground gasoline storage tank. The exhaust from the truck is thought to have caused the explosion, the burning gasoline igniting Beckman's clothing.

Employees went to Beckman's assistance, while others ran to the second floor where F. Milton Tires, his wife and two small children were sleeping. A wooden outside stairway was burning as they fled in night clothing. Tires carrying his 3-year-old daughter, Marilyn, stumbling, he fell, fracturing two ribs. The child was unhurt.

The building, owned by William Barberich and partly insured, was damaged $12,000. Tires estimated his loss as $25,000 for 13 trucks; $2000 for furniture and merchandise which was to be delivered and $3000 for personal property.

Fire Captain Hurt in Explosion at Chemical Plant.

Fire Capt. Maurice O'Connor of Engine Co. No. 2 was cut and bruised early yesterday when he was knocked to the floor by an explosion while fighting a fire at the Brandley Chemical Co., 404 North Wharf street. He was treated at city hospital and taken home.

The fire, thought to have been caused by an overheated furnace, caused damage of $10,000 to contents and $5000 to the building.

ANOTHER HOLLYWOOD INCOME TAX COUNSELOR INDICTED

J. Ira Angus Accused of Aiding in Falsification of Earl Foxe's Return.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, CAL., March 10.—J. Ira Angus of Hollywood, tax counselor, was arrested yesterday on a charge of aiding the falsification of an income tax report. The arrest was made after Angus had been indicted by a Federal grand jury. Officials found Angus at his apartment and subdued him after a stiff tussle. He was handcuffed and taken to jail. Bond was fixed at $1000, but he was unable to furnish it.

The indictment charges that Angus prepared a false income tax report for Earl Foxe, motion picture actor. Officers said the counselor also had represented Nita Astor, film actor, the Duncan Sisters, Rosetta and Vivien. At one time he was secretary for Victor McLaglen, picture star.

The indictment against Angus followed by several months the return of similar indictments against Marjorie Berger and Edward H. Hayden, tax counselors, and information against a large group of film celebrities. Miss Berger and Hayden are serving prison terms.

FINDS HIS EX-WIFE IN GANG THAT HELD HIM FOR RANSOM

Wealthy Head of Chicago Insurance Concern Identified Six Men Who Threatened Him With Hot Irons.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 10.—Theodore Kopelman, wealthy head of an insurance company, faced a string of prisoners at the county jail yesterday and identified six men as the ones who held him captive in a lonely lake resort cottage and threatened him with branding irons until he paid ransom.

Kopelman then picked out among those rounded up in connection with the gang activities his divorced wife, now the associate of one of the ringleaders.

In addition to the seven leaders, seven men and another woman are held as witnesses and two more are being sought.

Patrick Roche, chief investigator for the State's Attorney's office, said the kidnapping and extortion ring's operations netted a yearly average of $35,000 for each member, while one of the men, he said, had confessed his share last year was $75,000. He said the operations of the ring were widespread throughout the East.

To Seek Death Penalty.
Assistant State's Attorney Charles Miller said he would ask the grand jury to indict the seven leaders for conspiracy to kidnap for ransom and added he would seek the maximum penalty, death in the electric chair.

Roche said he thought the ring was connected in the East with the kidnapping of labor leaders, racketeers, actors and others during the last two years. Through fear of reprisal, he said, none of those who paid ransom would identify their abductors.

The investigator said he knew of six other torture-kidnapings which he positively attributed to the ring and that he had reports of 23 others in which the methods were similar. In the East the only abduction which reached public notice was that of William J. Lyons, president of the Building Trades Council of Newark, N. J., who paid a gang of torturers a large amount after he had been burned with hot irons.

The gang was safe in Chicago.
Roche said, so long as it confined its operations to men who feared to go to police. They made their mistake when they kidnaped Kopelman Feb. 23, held him prisoner in a bungalow at Camp Lake, Wis., another day in a Chicago apartment and finally freed him, after he had paid $40,000 and given a check for $10,000.

Payment on Check Refused.
The men went to his sister, Gertrude Kopelman, and his attorney, Louis Victor, for the money. When payment on the check was refused, they spent a week trying to force Kopelman to cash it. Finally Kopelman called in Roche and early yesterday, when the six men went to the sister's Michigan boulevard dress shop for the money they were captured.

No actual torture was applied to Kopelman, but he said the men heated him with which they singed his hair, threatening closer application.

Several hotel and apartment raids followed and the investigators picked up Mrs. Myrtle Christine Larson Thorn Kopelman Guesenberg, blonde, who it was learned, was Kopelman's divorced wife and the companion of Norman Rosenberg, one of the prisoners. The woman, according to Roche, provided the ring with information about her former husband.

Alleged Bomber Held.
Besides Reanick and Mrs. Guesenberg, those held as principals are: Michael Rosenberg, in whose home Kopelman was held; Isidore Snedler, once indicted as a bomber; Charles Hadesman, reputed election terrorist; Sam Gold, with a police record, and Sam Poller, who was wounded when "Hymie" Weiss, notorious gangster, was machine-gunned to death in front of Holy Name Cathedral. Rosenberg, Roche said, has confessed his share in the plot.

Mrs. Guesenberg was divorced from her first husband, a man named Thorn, and then from Kopelman. Pete Guesenberg, her third, was a victim of the St. Valentine's Day killing in 1929.

STARTS FIRE WITH OIL; 3 DEAD
Girl, 11, and Two Sisters Injure Lives on Farm Near Newark, O.
NEWARK, O., March 10.—An explosion and fire last night at Lawrence Thompson's farm, about 15 miles north of here today, had resulted in the death of three girls: Pauline Thompson, 11, and her sister Mabel, 9, and Mary, 8.

The accident occurred when Pauline attempted to kindle a fire in a kitchen stove with kerosene.

Hoover to Address Boy Scouts.
WASHINGTON, March 10.—President Hoover has declined to attend and address the Boy Scouts banquet tonight. With the announcement from the White House that the President had declined not to cancel the engagement, it was pointed out that the banquet is not a social function, and Mr. Hoover's interest in youth and its worthwhile activities was such that he probably would be the last person to want the affair postponed because of his death.

Florida G. O. P. Leaders Design.
LAKELAND, Fla., March 10.—Glenn B. Shipper, Republican National Committeeman for Florida, and E. E. Callaway, Republican State Chairman, jointly announced their resignations yesterday and at the same time Shipper announced his decision not to be a candidate for Congress from the First District. The action followed a conference and file of the party if these two heads would withdraw.

Best Remedy for Common Coughs, Mixed at Home

You'll never know how quickly a severe cough due to a cold can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in millions of homes, because it gives more prompt, positive relief than anything else. It's so trouble-free at all to mix and costs but a trifle. Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to make a full pint. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes good—children like it.

You can actually feel its penetrating, soothing action on the inflamed throat membranes. It is also absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. At the same time, it promptly loosens the germ-laden phlegm. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of crotonol, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for incipient bronchial coughs and other severe coughs due to colds.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Charged with Laziness—

Guilty Simply of Acidity!

That persistent feeling of tiredness—that clouded mind—that lack of dash and fire—that missing punch that exists in so many situations in business—are all usually due to an acid system. Excess acid, formed in the stomach, as a result of our unwholesome eating habits, causes acid indigestion with gas, sourness and burning all acts up poisonous putrefaction in the gastro-intestinal canal that saps our strength and vitality, sours our nerves and pulls us down physically and mentally.

Magnesia Oxidized, developed in Germany by a famous, 100-year-old pharmaceutical house, corrects acidity in the right way. Upon contact with the acid in the stomach, Magnesia Oxidized generates nascent oxygen, which "lives" your money.

5-Day Acidity Test

To ascertain just how "acid" you are, make this 5-day test. Get a package of Magnesia Oxidized at small cost from Walgreen's Drug Store, or any other good drug store. Take two after each meal for a few days and see how much better you feel—how much more soundly you sleep and how much more energy you have. If 5 days' use doesn't tell you volumes return the balance of the Oxidized to the drug store and he will cheerfully refund your money.

HAVE YOU VISIONED SMALL ACREAGE WITH LARGE PROFITS?

HAVE you ever visioned a land with soil so bounteous and climate so equitable that small acreage yields income as large as that derived from farms of vast extent?

Have you ever sought a region where water is no problem, where open-air activity goes on each month of the year, where every agricultural pursuit is profitable—field crops, orchards, vines, floriculture, and all branches of animal husbandry?

In the rich mellow valleys, on the lush gently-sloping hills of Alameda County, California, this land of heart's desire awaits! And better, it is minutes near the 1,600,000 consumers comprising the Metropolitan Market of the San Francisco Bay area. Consider the opportunities presented by Animal Husbandry alone:

Beckoning husbandmen here are the raising of chickens, turkeys, squabs, cattle, sheep, hogs, rabbits, or the operating of dairy farms. Alameda County is the second largest poultry producing center in the world and possesses the largest squab lofts. Dairymen reap $6,000,000 annually; cattlemen $3,600,000; sheepmen $300,000; producers of other livestock earn hundreds of thousands of dollars each year.

MRS. SOPHIE N. BOOGHER, 91, WIDOW OF MERCHANT, DIES
Funeral of Descendant of Old St. Louis Family Held This Afternoon.

Funeral services for Mrs. Sophie Hogan, Boogher, of 48 Kingsbury place, were held today at the residence. Mrs. Boogher, who was 91 years old, died of pneumonia early yesterday. The widow of Simon L. Boogher, a wholesale merchant, she was a member of an old St. Louis family.

Her father was the Rev. John Hogan, a minister in the Southern Methodist Church, who was postmaster of St. Louis before the Civil War and later a member of Congress. She published his biography four years ago. Her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Joseph V. Gardner, lived in St. Louis under three flags, the Spanish, French and American.

Mrs. Boogher was a member of Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church, South, for 80 years, and had been active in church work. She was a charter member of the Daughters of the Confederacy. Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Nathaniel L. Moffitt, and four sons, Lawrence, Clinton, John, and Dr. Frank Boogher.

DR. BERNARD J. TYNAN KILLED IN AUTO CRASH IN CHICAGO
Former St. Louisian's Machine Hits Street Car; Funeral Here Wednesday.

Funeral services for Dr. Bernard J. Tynan, former St. Louisian, who was killed in Chicago yesterday when his automobile collided with a street car, will be held at 9 a. m. Wednesday at the William Ambruster undertaking establishment, 4214 Manchester avenue. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

Dr. Tynan was 32 years old and a member of the staffs of Englewood and Holy Cross hospitals in Chicago. After his graduation from St. Louis University, he practiced here for several years. He is survived by his wife, Mary, and a 3-months-old daughter, Patricia, who since last Thursday have been visiting Mrs. Tynan's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Richter, 3650 O'Meara avenue.

TWO WOMEN MISSIONARIES KILLED BY CHINESE BANDITS
Third Captive of Brigands Dies as Result of Privation and Exposure.

By the Associated Press. SHANGHAI, March 10. — Two Finnish women missionaries of the China-England mission have been killed by bandits who captured them more than a month ago as they traveled by boat from Changshu to Kianfu. A third captive, Miss Cajander, died after three days' privation and exposure. The two killed were Misses Ingram and Dhedengren.

A few weeks prior to their death the two last named were saved temporarily from capture by Chinese friends who bricked them up in a wall while the brigands looted the house.

VAN SWERINGENS' MO. PAC. HOLDINGS DISCLOSED IN DEAL

J. P. Morgan & Co. Announces $37,500,000 Program to Reimburse Alleghany Corporation

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 10.—A $37,500,000 financing program to reimburse the Alleghany Corporation, holding company for the Van Sweringen interests, for an investment in the Missouri Pacific Railroad, is announced by J. P. Morgan & Co. It is the first official confirmation of reports that Alleghany has been acquiring an interest in Missouri Pacific.

The financing includes a $25,000,000 issue of 20-year 6-per-cent convertible collateral trust bonds of Alleghany Corporation, to be offered at 97. Early next week a $12,500,000 issue of 5 1/2 per cent preferred stock, with warrants, is to be sold.

The bonds are secured by 100,000 shares of Missouri Pacific common stock, 60,000 shares of that road's preferred and $7,000,000 of its 5 1/2 per cent convertible debenture bonds. Common stock of the Nickel Plate and Pere Marquette, controlled by the Van Sweringens, is also to be pledged. The total security is to be maintained at 150 per cent of the par value of the bond issue.

The financing will bring the assets of Alleghany Corporation to $29,000,000 and its indebtedness to $96,000,000. The company already has outstanding two issues of 5 per cent convertible bonds. The new bonds may be converted into six shares of preferred stock and 10 of common at any time within 15 years of issuance. Van Sweringen's Seeking Working Relations, Missouri Pacific View. The Missouri Pacific securities pledged for this financing were purchased in the open market several months ago and the Van Sweringen interests have made no additional purchases recently. It was said to day at the Missouri Pacific headquarters. It is understood by Missouri Pacific executives that the purpose of the Van Sweringens was to establish better working relations between their Eastern lines and the Missouri Pacific, but so far the Van Sweringens have not approached the Missouri Pacific executives on the matter. The Missouri Pacific common stock held by the Van Sweringens is far from a controlling interest, since there are more than $80,000 shares of the common outstanding.

WATCHMAN SLAIN BY GUNMEN SEEKING RECORDS IN INQUIRY

Assistant Chicago Prosecutor Asks Data of Garage Area Vital to Alleged Payroll Plot.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 10.—Thomas Coughlin, 62-year-old garage watchman, was shot fatally yesterday by two men and his deathbed statement that the gunmen entered the garage seeking books and records is considered by the State's Attorney's office as an indication of an attempt to block an investigation of the Department of Public Works.

Assistant State's Attorney Keele said the garage was leased to the department and was used for truck storage. The records of the garage, he added, were vital to his inquiry into alleged department payroll padding and improper expenditures.

Last week Keele petitioned in court for the records, but the action was halted when Richard W. Wolfe, Commissioner of Public Works, said he would provide photostatic copies.

Mothers... Watch Children's COLDS

COMMON head colds often "settle" in throat and chest where they may become dangerous. Don't take a chance—at the first sniffle rub on Children's Musterole once every hour for five hours.

Children's Musterole is just good old Musterole, you have known so long, in milder form.

Working like the trained masseur, this famous blend of oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other ingredients brings relief naturally. It penetrates and stimulates blood circulation, helps to draw out infection and pain.

Keep full strength Musterole on hand for adults and the milder—Children's Musterole for little tots. All druggists.

U. S., JAPAN VIRTUALLY IN AGREEMENT ON TONNAGE

Result Reached by Stress on Actual Cruiser and Submarine Building in Five Years, Each Saving Face on Demands.

FRENCH SECURITY QUESTION TAKEN UP

MacDonald, Stimson and Briand Tackle Problem, Upon Which Success or Failure of Naval Conference May Depend.

By CHARLES G. ROSS, Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. LONDON, March 10.—Virtual settlement of tonnage differences between the United States and Japan has been reached in conversations between Secretary Stimson and Senator Reed on one side and Ambassador Matsudaira and former Premier Wakatsuki on the other.

The prospective agreement is of a nature which permits each delegation to say that its original thesis has been maintained.

This result has been achieved by laying stress, not on abstract but on actual figures of construction planned for the next five years.

The salient feature of the agreement provides that America will get lay down the last three of her allotted 18 big cruisers until 1937, 1938 and 1939. Thus we would come into 1938 with not more than 15 eight-inch cruisers actually afloat.

Japan during this period would retain her present 12 eight-inch gun cruisers, aggregating 128,000 tons, so that her tonnage in comparison with our 114,000 actual maximum would be slightly better than the 79 per cent she has been claiming.

On the other hand, when our right to build 18 ships is brought into calculation, Japan's ratio in tonnage—146,000 as compared with 130,000—drops to the 69 per cent to which we have been trying to hold her.

In the number of ships, Japan's percentage will be 66; that is to say, she will have 12 against our 18. The difference between the ship ratio and the tonnage ratio is due to the fact that only eight of Japan's eight-inch gun ships are full 10,000 tonners, four of them being 10,000 tonners. All American ships mounting eight-inch guns are of 10,000 tons.

Agreement as to submarines, in which Japan has been claiming parity with the United States, has been worked out by similar realistic methods of submarines under effective age limit of 12 years. Japan has 46,000 tons afloat. Counting submarines building, she has a total of 77,000. The United States has 15,500 tons of effective submarines afloat, two new building bringing the total to 27,000 and three others appropriated for bringing the grand total to 35,000.

The basis of agreement in the submarine category is that Japan, by making no replacements as ships pass the effective age, shall reach 1936 with a total of 22,000 tons and that we shall be allowed replacements that will leave us with about 40,000. It has been calculated that if we made no replacements our effective tonnage in 1936 would be only 22,000.

The agreement in a nutshell, regarding both cruisers and submarines, the Japan to existing strength and allows the United States an amount of building deemed necessary by the delegation to satisfy our needs.

France's Demand for Guarantee Against Aggression Taken Up. LONDON, March 10.—Chief delegates of America, Great Britain, and France tackled the first great crisis of the naval conference here today, when they faced one another across a table at St. James's Palace for consideration of France's demand for a guarantee of security.

In exchange for such a guarantee France has let it be known she is preparing to cut down her claim for a navy aggregating 124,000 tons in five years. It was a matter of utmost gravity which MacDonald, Secretary Stimson and Briand were called upon to handle. Upon its outcome may depend success or failure in this disarmament conference.

Brand, veteran of innumerable crises in international conferences, known in advance that neither MacDonald nor Stimson wished to involve their countries in any pact which would commit them to warlike action. But Briand has in-

U. S., JAPAN VIRTUALLY IN AGREEMENT ON TONNAGE

Result Reached by Stress on Actual Cruiser and Submarine Building in Five Years, Each Saving
Face on Demands.

FRENCH SECURITY QUESTION TAKEN UP

MacDonald, Stimson and Briand Tackle Problem, Upon Which Success or Failure of Naval Conference May Depend.

By CHARLES G. ROSS,
Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, March 10.—Virtual agreement of tonnage differences between the United States and Japan has been reached in conversations between Secretary Stimson and Ambassador Matsuoka and former Premier Wakisaka on the other.

The prospective agreement is of a nature which permits each delegation to say that its original thesis has been maintained.

This result has been achieved
by leaving stress not on abstract but on actual figures of construction planned for the next five years.

The salient feature of the agreement provides that America will lay down the last three of her allied 18 big cruisers until 1933, 1934 and 1935. Thus we would come into 1935 with not more than 35 eight-inch cruisers actually afloat. Japan during this period would retain her present 12 eight-inch gun cruisers, aggregating 13,000 tons, so that her tonnage in comparison with our 150,000 ton maximum would be slightly below the 70 per cent she has been claiming.

On the other hand, when our right to build 18 ships is brought into calculation, Japan's ratio in tonnage—103,000 as compared with 13,000—drops to the 60 per cent to which we have been trying to hold her.

In the number of ships, Japan's percentage will be 66; that is to say, she will have 12 against our 18.

The difference between the ship ratio and the tonnage ratio is due to the fact that only eight of Japan's eight-inch gun ships are full 1,000 tonners, four of them being 1,000 tonners. All American ships mounting eight-inch guns are of 10,000 tons.

Agreement as to submarines, in which Japan has been claiming parity with the United States, has been worked out by similar realistic methods of submarines under effective age limit of 13 years.
Japan has 66,000 tons afloat.
Counting submarines building, she has a total of 77,000. The United States has 15,500 tons of effective submarines afloat, two now building being the total of $1,000 and three others appropriated for bringing the grand total to $5,000.

The basis of agreement in the submarine category is that Japan,
in making no replacements as ships have the effective age, shall reach that we shall allow no replacements that will leave us with about 60,000. It has been calculated that if we made no replacements our effective tonnage in 1935 would be only 22,000.

The agreement is a nutshell, resolving both cruisers and submarines, thus Japan to existing strength and allows the United States an amount of building decided necessary by the delegation to satisfy our needs.

France's Demand for Guarantee Against Aggression Taken Up
By Associated Press.
LONDON, March 10.—Chief delegates of America, Great Britain and France tackled the first great crisis of the naval conference here today, when they faced one another across a table at St.
James's Palace, for consideration of France's demand for a guarantee of security.

In exchange for such a guarantee, France has let it be known she is preparing to cut down her claim for a navy aggregating 724,000 tons in five years. It was a matter of utmost gravity which Mac-Donald, Secretary Stimson and Briand were called upon to handle.
Upon its outcome may depend success or failure in this disarmament conference.

Gandhi's Plea for Full Freedom For India; He Opposes Violence But Serves Term for Sedition

Woman Leads Nationalist Congress Year After His Release in 1924—He Steps to Fore Again in 1929.

(This the third of four articles dealing with the career of Mahatma Gandhi and the political problem of modern India, which are inseparable, and which have assumed acute form as a result of the Nationalist demand for independence which may result in a formidable Anglo-Indian round table conference in London soon.)

Gandhi's Demand for Complete Independence.
By the Associated Press.
LONDON.—The decision of the Indian National Congress to work for complete independence from Great Britain marks a turning point in the career of Mahatma Gandhi and envisages possible violence, a thing that has always been repugnant to him.

When the Parsees abandoned
the Indian movement in boycott the Parsees welcomed the ceremonies welcoming the Prince of Wales in India in 1921, their compatriots robbed and burned their homes and killed
many of them.

Gandhi, the apostle of nonviolence, immediately recalled the mass civil disobedience order which he had issued and began a long fast as penance for the Nationalists' use of violence.

But at Christmas, 1921, when the Prince of Wales was in Calcutta, the Nationalist Congress at Ahmedabad elected Gandhi delegate and gave him authority to name his own successor. The Nationalists wished to authorize "violence if necessary," but Gandhi, the non-violent, threw so much force into the proposal that it was defeated.

Outlawing the Congress.
The British authorities could no longer ignore the rebellious tendencies of the Nationalists and outlawed the Congress, arresting thousands of men and women. At that moment one word from Gandhi would probably have precipitated a revolution, and Nationalists instead of Gandhi had been secretly assured that native Indian troops, including the Sikhs, awaited only his word to revolt.

This was inconsistent with the principles of the apostle of nonviolence, but Gandhi, pushed to the limit by the Extremists among his followers, did serve an ultimatum on the Viceroy giving him seven days in which to change the governmental policy and threatening the next step of mass civil disobedience should that fail.

Then came the Chauri-Chaura riot. Police interfered with a religious procession in that town and 27 of them were pursued to their barracks and killed. Violence had again spoiled the Mahatma's plans.
He immediately suspended his ultimatum to the Viceroy and again did penance.

Two Years in Prison.
The Indian mystic had been threatened with arrest for about a year. The Government at last took the long-contemplated step and arrested the Mahatma when he and his followers in a Sunday prayer on the banks of the river Gu-jrat. Appearing in court wearing only a loin cloth, he was sentenced to six years for sedition at Ahma-dabad on March 18, 1922. He entered upon a six-year program of self-improvement at Yerawada prison. He was released in February, 1924, after serving nearly two years.

Gandhi immediately resumed leadership of the Nationalists and urged them to take up spinning their own yarn for cloth as an antidote to violence and for economy reasons. The Indian leader wished to break India's dependence upon Lancashire for textiles. The charka or spinning wheel was placed on the Nationalist flag.

In December, 1924, Gandhi headed the Nationalist Congress which met at Belgaum. It was his first appearance since his imprisonment.
The next year the woman, outlawed Sarojini Naidu, led the Nationalists' meeting for the first time.
Thereafter until the Congress of December, 1929, Gandhi kept out of prominence. Then last Christmas he came out for complete independence from Great Britain, a more radical step than he had ever before advocated.

After the meeting on the Raptana, was: "The part of each of governments in the promotion of world peace will be different, as one will never consent to become entangled in European diplomacy, and the other is resolved to pursue a policy of active co-operation with its European neighbors; but each of our governments will direct its thoughts and influence toward the curing and maintaining the peace of the world."

London Press Attitude.
Some London morning papers today voiced emphatic opposition to British participation in any part of the disarmament conference, as satisfying France and bringing her into a five-power naval agreement. The Times said that both Great Britain and America equally were unwilling to pay the full price France asks for a reduction in her tonnage demands.

The Conservative Daily Telegraph described the suggestion that Great Britain participate in a Mediterranean pact as "simply a war trap baited with peace verbiage," and added: "There is a tendency in American opinion to press acceptance of this diplomatic device upon Great Britain, offering her the prospect of obtaining from the conference some tangible success in disarmament. To this pressure the British Government is bound to offer unpleasant resistance."

Americans' Press Policy.
The American delegation enter the eighth week of the negotiations with a reversal of policy toward the press. When Sir John Simon arrived in London he met the press daily, but afterward he began to shun the newspaper men. With the reopening of the conference Stimson will allow a considerable widening of policy regarding news, and permit delegates a greater latitude than was indicated in his earlier order nearly a month ago requesting the delegates not to discuss publicly the American policies.

During the tedious negotiations
before the French had to go back to Paris, the American delegation was making ironclad agreements with those delegates with whom they conferred that nothing was to be said to newspaper men attached to either delegation. But each morning after such conferences, the Americans found full reports of what had gone on, either sent by the Exchange, told the House of Commons this afternoon on behalf of Prime Minister MacDonald. A questioner wanted to know if the Prime Minister could, now make any statement on the conference's progress and whether agreement had been reached on any point. In a written reply, Snowden said that, while steady and satisfactory progress was being made and while tentative agreements had been reached on a number of points, the Premier did not consider it would be in the interests of the conference to deal with the matters placed before him at the present time.

Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, told the House of
of Prime Minister MacDonald. A
questioner wanted to know if the Prime Minister could, now make
any statement on the conference's

As a result, Senator Reed and Senator Robinson advised Stimson to change his policy toward the American press.

HOOVER APPROVES REPORT ON HAITI BY FORBES BOARD

Details Unannounced at White House, but Island Dispatch Tells of Recommendation for Election.

TEMPORARY RULER FIRST TO BE NAMED

Brig. Gen. Russell, Who Signed Communication to President, to Be Removed as Commissioner.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 10.—It was announced at the White House today that President Hoover had received and approved joint recommendations from the Forbes Haiti Commission and Brigadier-General
John H. Russell, American High Commissioner.

Nothing was said at the White House regarding the nature of the recommendation.
By the Associated Press.
PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, March 10.—Plans for a provisional Government to serve until the constitution may be re-established promises this West Indian republic relief from the conditions of which it has complained for years. The plans are those drawn up by the American Investigating Commission in collaboration with Government and opposition elements here. They have the approval in principle of President Hoover, and President Louis Borno of Haiti, also.

A statement issued by the commission outlines the arrangement, which involves selection of a neutral and nonpolitical candidate for the provisional presidency. The provisional President then would call a popular election at the earliest possible date, resigning when the new Legislature was constituted in order so that body might elect a President for a normal term.
Although the commission's statement did not mention the fact, it is known that the plan contemplates ultimate replacement of the American Military High Commissioner, Brigadier-General John H.
Russell, by a civilian Minister of the diplomatic service.

The commissioners said that they hoped to see Haiti on a constitutional peace footing within three months. It was considered certain that negotiations to end American occupation of the island would begin within a short time.
The Hoover commission's statement yesterday for the interior, receiving a cordial welcome everywhere.
Many Haitian flags were seen, usually accompanied by banners such as "We have confidence in the commission."

Statement of Commission.
The President's commission," said the announcement of the commission, "has suggested that the various elements composing the opposition to the present Haitian Government should organize a group of delegates satisfactory to themselves, and designating a neutral and non-political candidate, satisfactory also to President Borno, who should then receive their votes and also be elected provisionally."

The President thus chosen will call a popular election at the earliest possible date and present his resignation to the new Legislature, so that the addition to this force is 50 picked Corsican former guards, who landed Friday to join the service of Prince Louis. They will guard the casino and the palace, to believe that a definite impression on the alarming figures would be made by February, but that today's figures were 147,000 more than the same time last year.

The time has come for a very candid and fearless review of the whole position, not so much in a spirit of criticism as in a spirit of helpfulness and of converting the House into a council of state," said Lloyd George.

Prince Louis added a little comedy to the affair by issuing a royal decree forbidding photographers
"whether on foot or in airplanes," to take pictures of the "national defense works." No one has yet been able to discover the existence of these works, much less photograph them.

Trouble between Prince Louis and his subjects has been brewing since the fall of 1925, when the people protested against his support of the policy of the Societe des Bains de Mer, which owns the casino and dominates the country.

GEN. LIANG DIES AT BANQUET; CHINESE ALLEGED POISONING

TOKIO, March 10.—A Rengo

Chung-chai, commander of the Chinese garrison at Manchuria durchuria last November, died suddenly after a feast at Hallar. Another Chinese official was said to be host at the banquet.

Chinese reports allege poisoning
of the General is suspected.
Liang, whose stubborn defense of Manchuria was the brightest spot in the Chinese debacle, recently returned to Manchuria from captivity in Siberia.

Naval Conference Cannot Fail, MacDonald Tells U. S. by Radio

British Premier, Speaking in England, Says Delegates Have Passed First Stage, Mutual Understanding.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 10.—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, in a radio address yesterday, said the five-power naval conference at London was on the way to negotiation of its difficulties. He said he thought it would "set the face of the world toward the dawning day of universal peace."

In an address broadcast in the United States and Canada by the Columbia Broadcasting System, MacDonald, who spoke from his country home in England, told his listeners he did not entertain the thought of failure.

"All is well," he said. "We have been delayed three weeks, but we have used the time well in clearing up differences between delegations.
M. Briand and his fellow-delegates returned Thursday evening, and were hard at work Friday morning.
Conferences are continuing over the week-end. The thought of failure is not entertained in St. James's Palace. Our American friends may be of as good hope and heart as we are. We shall not give up until human ingenuity and patience are exhausted, and that is a long way off yet."

Reply to Pessimists.
"Those pessimist friends of ours who find so much pleasure in deep mourning told you you would hear little more of us. They do not know us. We have worked hard, but not nearly so hard as we should have done had there been any serious chance of the conference failing."

He declared the conference had passed the first stage wherein the delegates got to understand one another. The second stage, he said, was discussion of actual programs.
"Of course," he went on, "when we reach the inevitable point where programs have to be discussed, we are on dangerous ground. The program is the task of our beliefs
in a longer, when trying to adjust programs, conference after conference has failed, but there is no way around them. We must cut our way through them."

He said the technical experts would "never get us over," and through that ground, but in London the last word rests with civilians and every one of us is determined to get an agreement, an agreement not with two or three of us but an agreement among the five of us."

In conclusion MacDonald said:
"The agreement will carry us on until 1935 and then the troublesome things which we are now facing will have been settled and whoever will be in our places will have an open road to proceed toward the cherished goal of nations and arms."

"It may not be our happy lot to get as far as some of us would like at this conference. Confidence in peace and in judicial settlement is still a tender plant. We have to get our inheritance of militarism, rivalry and nationalist distrust and fear
well behind us, and if we do that,
as I believe we are doing, we can when we put our names to the agreement, lift up our hearts in thankfulness that at the very least we have been able to set the face of the world toward the dawning day of universal peace."

Monaco, With 700 Citizens, Be-

By the Associated Press.
MONTE CARLO, March 10.—The principality of Monaco has become proportionately the most heavily armed country in the world.

With a total of 700 citizens, it has mustered an armed force of 350 police, gendarmes and secret service men. For every two citizens there is an armed defender.
The latest addition to this force is 50 picked Corsican former guards, who landed Friday to join the service of Prince Louis. They will to believe that a definite impres-

By the Associated Press.

To Leave English Girl to Head College of Devotees.
By the Associated Press.
NEW DELHI, India, March 10.—
When Mahatma Gandhi starts his march of civil disobedience with his 40 volunteers this week, an English girl will be left in charge of his college of devotees. She is Miss Madeleine Slade, daughter of the late Admiral Sir Edward Slade, who has abandoned a fortune to espouse the cause of Gandhi. She spends the life of an ascetic in a tiny cell.

The college of devotees is Gandi-hi's intellectual organization and retreat, which acts as a fount of inspiration for his followers.
The Indian Government met with its first defeat in the present session of the Legislative Assembly Saturday when the House rejected the army secretariat budget, 40 to 44. The Government's defeat by a close margin followed strong protests in the assembly against the heavy military expenditure, the Government's failure to establish an Indian Military School, and the present method of recruiting Indian officers."

Indian speakers were incensed at Field Marshal Sir William Bledisloe, Commander-in-Chief,
for his failure to attend the House sitting.
Gerard Macaworth Young, Army
Secretary, assured the Assembly
the Government was doing its best to reduce expenditure and defend the present methods of recruiting Indian officers.

VOTE ON YOUNG PLAN DELAYED IN REICHSTAG

Chancellor Mueller Defers Action
Because of Uncertainty as to Outcome.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, March 10.—Considerable uncertainty exists here as to whether a Reichstag majority can be found for the Young plan and associated legislation on the second reading of the bill, originally set for today, but postponed because of the acknowledged crisis
until tomorrow.

Chancellor Hermann Mueller
yesterday failed in his efforts to harmonize differences between parties of the coalition on the Young plan and financial reforms, and he finally broke off his discussions with the other party leaders.

The Catholics and the Bavarians have threatened to abstain from voting on the measure unless an agreement on financial reform is reached before the Young plan vote is taken. The Chancellor is convinced, however, he will be able to swing a safe majority when the time comes for the vote. It was said that in any case he and his Government had no intention of resigning.

The annual session of the City Board of Equalization, which has power to decrease tax assessments upon complaint of taxpayers and to increase them for cause upon motion of the Assessor, will begin a week from today and end April

Members of the board are ap-public utilities, which are assessed by the State, then will become known. The figure is likely to be well in excess of $1,200,000,000.

Authority of Board.
Complete authority of the Board of Equalization is given in the charter as follows: "Said board shall have the power and duty to hear complaints and appeals, and to adjust, correct and equalize the valuations and assessments of any taxable property, real or personal, within the city, and to assess and equalize the value of any taxable property, real or personal, omitted from the assessment books."

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in the editorial principles that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerance, never corruption, never flight. Consequently, all parties must belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely passing laws, always be ready to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory democracy.

Mr. Guernsey's Lecture on Public Utility Law and Regulation.

The students at the Washington University School of Law were given the opportunity of listening to a representative of one of the more progressive units of the Forum Trust when Mr. Guernsey, a vice president of the A. T. & T., lectured recently. It could be observed that those who heard him retained enough of their intellectual integrity to let the esteemed gentleman know that as far as favorable reaction was concerned, he had just "laid an egg."

To those acquainted with the rudiments of political economy it seemed that Mr. Guernsey's doctrines concerning public utilities and their regulation were amazingly naive. He insisted that a utility—whether it be a light or power or telephone company—was no different from any other business in its relation to the public. The telephone company is no different from the corner grocery; one should not be regulated or supervised any more than the other. The gas or electric or telephone service which they furnish is comparable to the pound of coffee or butter to be purchased in any neighborhood. If you don't like the quality and the price don't suit you, you have the privilege of starting a business of your own to deal in the commodity or go elsewhere to buy. The above is typical of his beliefs on the more controversial aspects of the utilities problem, and to the student of constitutional or corporate law they sounded suspiciously like the mouthing of a statute, of which it is said, "The grant of corporate charter meant the right to oppress someone to the benefit of the incorporators."

Mr. Guernsey's statements, insofar as they are pertinent to corporate and political theory, were loose in logic and wrong in history, and further confused by the extremely monopolistic nature of his and related companies.

He skipped lightly over the holding of the United States Supreme Court in the celebrated case of Munn vs. Illinois (1876) 94 U. S. 113, where it was said: "When private property is affected with public interest, it ceases to be juris privati only." Property does become clothed with a public interest when used in a manner to make it of public consequence, and affect the COMMUNITY AT LARGE. When, therefore, one devotes his property to a use in which the public has an interest in that use, he must submit to be controlled by the public for the common good."

When it was suggested by one of the listeners that Mr. Guernsey express his opinion on the recent decision of the Michigan Supreme Court in State ex rel. Potter v. Michigan Bell Telephone Co. (Michigan), 1929, he wisely refrained, saying that he knew nothing about the case, and should therefore prefer not to discuss it. And forsooth, why should he? In this case, which involved the question of ouster of the Michigan Bell company from the State, the Attorney-General having proved the case, the Michigan A. T. & T. Co. and the subsidiary Michigan company, and also the A. T. & T. Co. owned 99.99 per cent (almost pure) of the stock of this company, and that therefore the foreign corporation was virtually directly operating a utility in Michigan (contrary to constitutional provision), and that the people of Michigan had the further burden of having to pay in their phone bills a charge of 4 per cent of the gross revenues of the subsidiary to its parent for "services rendered" which was treated as an operating charge to be deducted before computation of the net return that the company was entitled to receive on its investment, the Court held, "The services so rendered, while purporting to be under contract, are in reality services rendered for itself by the A. T. & T. Co. It is the defendant in a mere instrumentality for carrying on the business of the A. T. & T. Co."

Where a corporation exists as a device to evade legal obligations, and, we suppose, to impose further burdens on the public, "the two corporations will be regarded in legal contemplation as one unit."

"That the Michigan company is a mere agent or instrumentality of the A. T. & T. Co. is established, and THE PURPOSE OF THIS ORGANIZATION IS TO AVOID FULL INVESTIGATION AND CONTROL AND RESTRAINT BY THE STATE PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION, TO THE INJURY OF THE PUBLIC."

That Mr. Guernsey's doctrines are concurred in by most of the men engaged in the utilities business today I do not doubt, nor do I doubt that he is sincere in holding to them. But their attitude, if persisted in, can seem to lead to no other conclusion than that the ultimate outcome of the gigantic struggle between the great mass of the people and the utilities will be public ownership and operation of all utilities, which would, submit, be both logical and desirable.

AN EXAMPLE IN COURAGE.

At a time when news from the naval conference at London is far from cheering, Ramsay MacDonald has set us all an excellent example in courage. The British Premier does not believe the conference is going to fail, a pit he urges the people of the maritime nations not to let it fail. He reminds us that the London conference is not like any prior conference upon the subject of disarmament. It is a conference among civilians earnestly desiring to rid the nations of an intolerable burden, and seal to end that international distrust which accounts for the great ravine. Heretofore Admirals and technical experts have held the floor at such conferences, but the London parley is debating the subject from the point of view of the people who pay the bills. In closing the reassurance broadcast to the world last night Mr. MacDonald said:

The agreement will carry us on until 1936, and then the troublesome things which we are now facing will have been settled and whoever will be in our places will have an open road to proceed toward the cherished goal of nations and arms.

It may not be our happy lot to get as far as some of us would like at this conference. Confidence in peace and in judicial settlement is still a tender plant. We have to get our inheritance of militarism, rivalry and nationalist distrust and fear well behind us, and if we do that, as I believe we are doing, we can, when we put our names to the agreement, lift up our hearts in thankfulness that at the very least we have been able to set the face of the world toward the dawning day of universal peace.

Mr. MacDonald says the conference required time for the delegates to get acquainted with one another and discover how widespread among the nations is the will to peace. He thinks this interval has passed. It has not been a pleasant interval, characterized as it has been by such belligerency as that of France; nevertheless, it was inevitable and had to be got through with. The disposition of our own and the other maritime countries has been to exaggerate the importance of bluster and forget that the limitation of naval armaments is, aside from everything else, an economic necessity. If the London conference failed competition in naval armament would be certain to follow. Our own big navy people would revise the vast building program which plagued Mr. Coolidge after the Geneva conference failed. It is unthinkable that the lesson of the World War and what happened as a consequence of Germany's attempt to share the seas with Great Britain has been lost upon the naval Powers. Mr. MacDonald says they are going to stick to it until they can at least lay a foundation upon which their successors can build. That is the proper spirit—the spirit which, despite all discouragements, the people in all those countries who are bowed down by the burden of great navies will applaud.

So great a problem as that which bedevils the London conference can be solved only by the admirable quality of persistence. It is encouraging to learn from Mr. MacDonald that our own apprehensions of failure are not shared by the conference itself.

DEBAUCHING THE AMER.

Getting an ameba drunk may be sport for some people, but it leaves us cold. Yet this is exactly what Dr. C. F. A. Patten of the British Biological Station at Plymouth has been up to, according to Week's Science, as relayed by the Literary Digest. Gets these single-cell affairs tight and watches them make a show of themselves through his microscope, the doctor does.

An ameba is a simple being, rated on the life scale far below the average automobile driver or Ku Klux organizer. Its simplicity and lack of guile is such that one almost weeps to read about it. It is just a droplet of protoplasm. It absorbs food by flowing around the food particle. It walks by "making the living jelly of its body flow along the surface on which it rests, like a drop of syrup on a plate." Presumably, it refuses the third light on a match, reads only the almanac and sleeps in its underwear.

Yet Britain's Pandit, astute scientist, no faker, soaks amebas in alcohol, watches them stagger, frowns, writes reports. To fact-finder Patten a well-merited rebuke and a curse on these weekly magazines that ruin a man's editorial style.

LODGE AND THE LEAGUE.

My father hated and feared the Wilson League (the League of Nations), and his heart was really with the irreconcilables. But it was uncertain whether the League could be beaten in this way, and the object of his "reservations" was so to emasculate the Wilson pact that, if it did pass, it would be valueless, and the United States would be honorably safeguarded.

The above statement by Mrs. Henry Williams, daughter of the late Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, was read at a dinner in New York the other night by Henry Morgenthau, Ambassador to Turkey under President Wilson, who remarked that it "settles for the first time in a historic manner the question of who stopped the United States from joining the League of Nations."

Mrs. Williams' statement of her father's political strategy in his fight on the League coincides with informed opinion. But whether Senator Lodge was primarily inspired by hatred of the "Wilson League," or by personal hatred of Woodrow Wilson, is debatable. It is debatable for the reason that, in his commencement address at Union College in 1915 Mr. Lodge proposed an organization for the maintenance of world peace identical in many respects with the plan for a League of Nations as sponsored by Mr. Wilson. That speech is in the record, and neither history nor filial devotion can expunge it.

THE AMERICANIZATION OF BERLIN.

American influences have made themselves felt in Berlin. The pleasure-mad capital of Germany has copied all of the United States faults except prohibition.

Berlin has gone bankrupt. The influence of Chicago. Her citizens are evading taxes, having been taught by Americans, of course, that they are no longer to be classed with death as an inevitability. After-dark gaiety they took from New York night clubs; but they elaborated thereon, for the Potsdammer Platz amuses Broadway.

Even American chain store price-making methods have been adopted, as witness the charge of 58-24 cents for a steak. The caterers have Americanized their menus, to the extent at least of listing a plank steak served by a waiter, and in the building of their jazz halls they have employed Hollywood film studio architecture.

Other cities have no doubt given inspiration to the new Berlin and her people. St. Louis may have done her share. At any rate, a municipal scandal broke out over there while Mayor Rens was on his recent visit to this country. No doubt that "almost barbaric splendor of artificial lighting" reported in Berlin has a little Renshoff in it. If not, Berlin's attempt to Americanize herself is futile.

MR. HOOVER'S OPPORTUNITY.

Justice Sanford's death creates the second vacancy on the Supreme Bench within a period of five weeks. The resignation of Chief Justice Taft, early in February, was followed immediately by Mr. Hoover's nomination of Charles E. Hughes. That appointment was the occasion for the severest criticism of the Supreme Court that has been heard since the Dred Scott decision. Instead of speedily confirming Hughes, as was rightly predicted, the Senate witnessed a determined fight against him, during which popular dissatisfaction with the recent trend of Supreme Court decisions was fully aired. This dissatisfaction was epitomized by Senator Dill when he accused the Supreme Court of "writing into the law of the land economic doctrines that enable organized wealth to pick the pockets of the people under the guise of protecting its constitutional rights."

Mr. Hughes' appointment gave no comfort to those who believe the Supreme Court has become a reactionary force in American life, and who think the Court should be leavened by the appointment of men of more liberal tendencies. Justice Sanford's death renews Mr. Hoover's opportunity. The situation calls urgently for a man of broad and deep legal training, devotion to the Constitution and the fundamental rights of citizens, and a sense of social justice particularly with regard to the great economic questions now pressing for solution. There are a group of distinguished lawyers in this country from whom Mr. Hoover might make such a selection, and the country looks to him to do so.

At present, the Court is poorly balanced. On the one hand are Hughes, Van Devanter, McReynolds, Sutherland and Butler, all conservatives, though the last-named on occasion has broken from their ranks. On the other hand are Stone, Holmes and Brandeis. These two groups represent opposing philosophies, as is graphically illustrated by the monotonous recurrence of split votes in the Court's decisions. The dissenting opinions of Holmes and Brandeis have become famous, and form one of the most brilliant and unusual chapters in American jurisprudence. These opinions represent a powerful protest against the majority's views and have done much to undermine the implicit faith which the public used to have in the Court's judgment.

The storm over the Hughes appointment must have made clear to Mr. Hoover that, in appointing a successor to Justice Sanford, he has a magnificent opportunity to quiet popular fears that the Court is becoming increasingly one-sided in its attitude toward fundamental public questions.

Mr. Ford says his scientific plantation in Georgia will produce three crops. We hope it is not going to produce three crops of wheat this year.

DIRECT ACTION GETS IN ACTION.

The exponents of direct action have been busy obeying impulses the last few days, as these recent news items indicate:

Cornel Vanderbilt tapped a taxicab driver on the head with a blackjack when the Jehu wouldn't take him directly where he wanted to go.

A New York man, after a long wait outside a telephone booth while a lengthy conversation dragged along, pulled out a gun and shot the occupant of the booth.

A Chicago auto driver who had scraped the fender of another car grew weary of free advice from one of the gathered bystanders, seized an iron bar and railed the kibitzer.

Racing fans at Marseilles, France, angry because the horse on which they had bet had won and had then been disqualified on a technicality, burned the pari-mutuel booths and the stables.

A Chicago husband, finding at the end of a bridge that his wife had held 13 diamonds, had bid six trump and hadn't taken a trick, picked up a cut-glass bowl and broke it over her head.

The direct-actionists never have an inhibition because they never stretch an impulse. Their methods may be open to censure; but what wonderful warnings they have provided for gouging tax evaders, telephone endurance contestants, lavish advice givers, finicky track judges and dumb bridge players!

MAHATMA GANDHI IS ABOUT TO LAUNCH A CAMPAIGN OF DISOBEDIENCE AGAINST THE "INQUITOUS SALT TAX."

If a resident of the United States would probably throw a Chicago pineapple at our sugar tax.

SAFE PLANES, BUT NONE FOOL-PROOF.

When Col. Lindbergh predicted some time ago that the airplane would become as safe to drive as the automobile, he made the comparison advisedly. Just as there can be no "fool-proof" auto, the human element being what it is, just so can there be no "fool-proof" plane. Motor car manufacturers have been quick to take up safety devices, but an unskilled or careless driver still can wreck any machine. To an even greater extent is this true of planes.

The Guggenheim Foundation soon discouraged use of the word "fool-proof" in connection with its recently terminated contest. In its resume, just issued, the Foundation points out the new developments in safety brought out by its award. The Curtiss-Tanager, which won the $100,000 grand prize, embodies the latest ideas in its floating ailerons, manually controlled flaps and automatic wing alights. It demonstrated its ability to come out of a spin, to rise sharply from a small field and to land safely in a space only 500 feet square. The Guggenheim Foundation realizes many advances are still to be made, and hopes the stimulus of its contest will lead to results not at present tangible. For one matter, it regrets that the Autogiro was unable to compete, as its principle promises further safety to aviation.

Statistics show a decrease in mechanical defects as a cause of airplane accidents, and the predicted developments will reduce the percentage still more. The human element is becoming increasingly the margin between safety and danger. Soon skilled pilot contests will be more important than safe plane competitions.

Dr. Cherrington says the dyes are not voting in the Literary Digest poll. The truth is that they never did vote—not even when prohibition was adopted.

GOING RIGHT DOWN THE FIELD WITH IT.

Communists in America

Despite recent agitation, Communist party in U. S. now is weaker than ever before; has only about 5000 members, hopelessly divided into four factions; movement kept alive by Soviet, which must maintain world organization to hold Russian masses; Moscow may be disgusted with work here, but has to keep up bold front.

James O'Neal, Editor New Leader (Socialist), in Baltimore Evening Sun.

SINCE it has broken into the headlines in recent weeks, timid old gentlemen and members of the D. A. R. fear that American Communism is making considerable headway. Its emergence in public demonstrations in New York City and other cities gives it the appearance of renewed strength. The fact is that it has never been weaker than it is now. These demonstrations are more like the convulsions of a hospital patient than exhibitions of a person of robust physique.

American Communism is now hopelessly split into four organizations. Within two years there have appeared two offshoots of the Workers' (Communist) party, the parent party, each publishing its own weekly organ, and a bitter, triangular war has raged since July, 1929. The fourth organization is the Proletarian party which since 1920 has been unable to convince Moscow it alone is entitled to recognition.

It is impossible to ascertain the membership of the party and the factions. One thing is certain. During the bitter wrangles of the last two years the party has lost many members. It is doubtful whether it has over 4000 or 5000 members. Various estimates place the membership of the James P. Cannon group (the Communist League of America) at between 400 and 500 and of the Jay Lovestone group (the Communist Majority party) at over 1000. The Proletarian party probably has a few hundred.

The issue that has divided the party baffles intelligent comprehension. One does know that the brothers are quarreling over the question as to whether world capitalism has entered its second or its third stage of decline and whether the United States is included in this decline. Thousands of decisions of the Communist International and its subcommittees are quoted, everything that Lenin and Marx ever wrote, and hundreds of these written here and abroad as well as the fate and experience of the parties abroad are employed in the triangular war.

While the artillery roars on three fronts each army insists that it represents the true "Marxist-Leninist line." Its opponent represents a "right" or a "left" deviation or takes a "centerist" position. Outside the war zone is the Proletarian party, a mere observer of the war except for an occasional shell fired once each month through its organ.

There is one problem regarding American Communism that may be a puzzle to many. Emerging in 1915 with about 25,000 members, at the end of a decade it has about 5000, which are distributed among four organizations. It has lived in large part upon generous subsidies provided by the international organization. The Russian immediately arises. Why does the Communist International continue to invest in its American section when it is evident that the latter is a losing enterprise?

The answer is not hard to find. The party leaders in Russia are resourceful political chiefs, in many respects the most astute in the world. For years they have promised a "world revolution" based upon the Bolshevik model. A world revolution requires a world organization and Communist parties at least in the leading nations, especially in the United States, which is recognized as the leading capitalist power. Now, it is obvious that the Moscow chiefs must not only have a Communist party in the United States, but must give the Russian masses the impression that the American section is powerful. This they can do because of their absolute control of the press. They may be disgusted with the failure of their American lieutenants to build a Communist movement, yet they cannot abandon it. If the American party were expelled and thus denied its subsidies it would collapse like a house of cards. This decision could not be taken by Moscow without every Communist in Russia becoming aware of it and this would be the end of the promised "world revolution."

Thus Stalin and his leading party associates are prisoners of their own formula. They must continue to invest in what they must now know to be a failure. In this country the contradiction between hope and reality has resulted in a recession of the old Communist idealism of 10 years ago. It has been replaced to some extent by a growing cynicism and a struggle for jobs and salaries, for the party no longer gets rid of one faction than another takes its place.

It is because the internal party struggles have also become struggles for jobs and salaries that the Cannon dissenters have made an issue of abolishing the Moscow subsidies. They contend that this financial support has resulted in corruption, that it makes room for the routinist and the cynic, that it introduces a bone of contention that is demoralizing in its results. The dissenters also declare that there is now an average of one paid party official for every five members!

This whole situation places a premium on deception. A few weeks ago an issue of Pravda arrived in New York with an article by an American Communist on the movement in this country. It was intended for consumption in Russia. The article claimed that American Communism had practically won the Negro population and went on to cite its leadership over great masses of trades union members.

This, of course, is sheer nonsense, but Stalin needs this output in Russia. The American party is willing to supply it in return for financial aid. I have no doubt that the same policy is practiced in a country like England, where the movement has made more headway.

Finally, it is worth while to note that this policy of deception has come home to plague the Communists. From the period of its organization in 1919 the movement has followed the code that "the end justifies the means," with exclusive application to the non-Communist world. But one cannot follow this policy in relation to others without eventually having to turn against himself. When one cannot believe in the members of his own class disintegration is the penalty.

WASHINGTON, March 10.

FAMOUS among his colleagues, who have dined with him in his Washington home on Euclid street, are Senator Ellison S. Smith's South Carolina hams and sausage. Cured to perfection, with an art peculiar to Southern plantations, these two articles of food never fail to delight the senator's palate and bring forth praise and queries.

They come from the Senator's plantation just outside Lynchburg, S. C. They are prepared by the pride of the Smith family—Miss Anna Brunson, an aunt, 14 years old, supervisor of Senator Smith's plantation in efficient and forceful manner.

For 23 years Miss Brunson has been the head of the Smith home. Now, despite her advanced age, she continues to supervise the management of the Senator's plantation in efficient and forceful manner.

Nothing delights Senator Smith more than to talk of his "business manager" back in South Carolina.

"An old woman? You can't find anyone down home who thinks so," he says. "Her faculties are perfect. She speaks English—reads all the latest books and magazines and is enthusiastic about plays and the movies. Her interest in life is unbounded. Her two granddaughters are her chums. They and their friends come to her and ask her advice about everything—including love affairs. All regard her as a good sport."

The Senator outlined a few of the reasons why she is so successful in attending to the management of his plantation. "She has a keen sense of humor, a will that is indomitable, hard, practical common sense, a Spartan fortitude that neither weariness nor illness can conquer, and an unending energy."

SENATOR SMITH'S plantation is one of the most historic in the South. Ownership has never been outside the family. He has in his possession now the original land grant given by King George III in 1747 to his first Smith to settle there.

His maternal ancestors were from Scotland—members of a famous clan. Not much was known of the early history of this side of the family, says the Senator, until his brother visited Scotland recently and returned all of the family gathered at the Smith home to hear the report.

"His account of the clan's history was a glowing one," said Senator Smith. "During, during, during he found everything and made an investigation. When he returned all of the family gathered at the Smith home to hear the report."

Of Making Many JOHN G. NEIHARD

THE HUMAN MIND by Karl A. Menninger. (Knopf.)

THE HUMAN MIND provides a general survey of the whole field of modern psychiatry in a form readily intelligible to the general reader. It is a book that is needed by many who are in this direction, are "desirous of general, and at the same time comprehensive, review of psychology without the fault of many general treatises of instilling more misconceptions than the reader started with. Dr. Menninger has succeeded admirably in calling the best of modern psychiatry, illustrating all points with clinical cases of human interest.

In outline the book is: First, an analysis of personalities and an attempt to catalogue the more obvious types; second, a section illustrating variations and pathological symptoms; third, a description of the motives underlying various personality traits; fourth, the treatment of broken personalities; lastly, a section dealing with the application of psychiatry in various practical fields; for example, in penology. It is consistently well written and sometimes humorous, and is at all times interesting. The sections have been gleaned from the best literature.

Dr. Menninger's work should give the reader a wider perspective in judging the idiosyncrasies of his fellow beings.

"The Human Mind" is a companion volume to "The Human Body" by Logan Clendinning, which has been widely read.

from the assessment books then under examination by them, and to adjust and correct the assessment books accordingly; provided, that if said board proposes to increase any assessment or to assess any such omitted property, it shall give notice of the fact to the person owning or controlling the property affected, his agent or representative, by personal notice, by mail, or by advertisement, specifying when and where a hearing shall be granted.

Members of the board are required to be taxpaying property owners who have resided here at least 10 years and they must take an oath of office. The Charter provides that they must be in session at least three hours in the forenoon and three hours in the afternoon, daily except Sunday, for four weeks. They are paid $10 a day each, a total of $240 apiece for their services. They are empowered to hear and determine appeals from assessments "submitted."

marly" and may subpoena witnesses, administer oaths and call for production of books and papers. They must keep a record of proceedings.

No Appeal on Facts.
There is no appeal from decisions of the Board of Equalization on questions of fact as to assessments, but questions of law may be taken to the courts by taxpayers. Sessions are public.

Assessments cannot be obtained by taxpayers in advance of the convening of the board because the books are not ready. It is not feasible to provide an individual notice to property owners of the assessment because of the cost and labor, and the law does not require this; furthermore, if it were attempted to give notice of assessments persons who might insist on a hearing would get notice claim exemption.

Daily notices of the opening of the assessment books and convening of the Board of Equalization were ordered to be sent among the four newspapers last week and this week a similar advertisement will be published weekly while the board is in session, which is more notice than the Charter seems to require. On the basis of each blank served by the Assessor's office annually for return of personal property is the statement that it is to the interest of taxpayers to learn their assessment while the board is meeting.

All inquirers, Panzer said, are urged to assume themselves whether their assessment is just and proper or not. He said that he referred to the Deputy Assessors directly responsible for the valuations. Usually it has been found that the deputies can convince taxpayers that the figures are correct, but a few hundred inequities generally are found each year and corrected by the office voluntarily. About 250,000 tax bills are issued here annually. Panzer pointed out, but last year only 137 complaints went before the board.

The Assessor's office will make out the complaint form for appeals to the board to administer the oath of assent to the taxpayer without charge. Panzer then assigns a date for hearing, at which testimony will be taken under oath. The board may decide a case immediately, or after examination of the property or on the last day it sits, but the practice is to notify the complainant of its action after adjournment. The board will elect an expert builder and architect at $3 a day to report on value of buildings in controversy.

This will be Assessor Gehner's fifth year as president of the board and Panzer's seventh year as secretary. The other members are new to the work.

Harlow, Friend of Mayor.
Harlow, who is manager of the St. Louis agency as well as vice president of the Southern Surety Co., which has headquarters here, resides at 4354 Lindell boulevard and has his office in the Pierce Building. He has known Mayor Miller about 15 years and is a close friend of the Mayor. Mayor Miller and Harlow formerly were associated in business, Miller having been counsel, a director and a stockholder in the Southern Surety Co. He severed this relationship upon becoming Mayor.

Gruner has been in the lumber business here 25 years and for 15 years has been president of Philip Gruner & Bros. Lumber Company. He resides at 5335 Watterman boulevard and is a cousin of W. P. Gruner, who was treasurer of Mayor Miller's campaign last year. He was a Major in the old First Regiment of the National Guard but resigned after service in the Mexican border trouble.

Grace, who resides at 4324 Buckingham court and has an office at 160 North Eighth street, has been in the real estate business here for about 20 years.

Lloyd, who was Lieutenant-Governor in the administration of Gov. Hyde, resides at 1213 Clara street and has his contracting office in the Syndicate Trust Building. He was a member of the House of Delegates from 1915 to 1919, during the days of traction mergers, and from 1919 to 1921 he was a State Representative and Republican floor leader. As Lieutenant-Governor from 1921 to 1925 he ruled legislative affairs with an iron hand. He and Mayor Miller were opposing candidates for the gubernatorial nomination in 1924.

Assessor Gehner, who resides at 4324 De Soto avenue, was appointed to office in 1925 when Miller became Mayor. He had been a Deputy Assessor since 1918 and previously was an abstract clerk and title examiner in the office. For a time he was employed in the special tax department of the Board of Public Service. He was defeated for the Republican nomination for Sheriff in 1924 and the next year became one of the "original" Miller supporters. The Assessorship is the most remunerative office in the Mayor's gift, carrying a city salary of $5000 a year and State fees of about the same amount.

Last year the Board of Equalization members appointed by the Mayor were Fred W. Egner, a manufacturer and Twenty-first Ward Republican Committeeman; William Hayes, a real estate dealer, who served for the third successive year; and A. R. Schellmeyer and St. Goldmann, real estate dealers. The board made a net reduction of $142,470 in the assessment, cutting real estate valuations $1,023,850, but raising personal property levies of 25 companies $293,320. Up on complaints of excessive levies, most of the real estate in the area bounded by Broadway, the river and Tyler and Salsbury streets was reduced in assessment for an aggregate of $247,110. The final assessment for the city fixed by the board was $1,298,950,490.

Hayes, Schellmeyer and Goldmann, a real estate dealer, comprised the board in 1928. It made a net decrease of $195,730, making the final figure $1,465,542,520. On 15 of 197 cases it heard it ordered increases, of $242,000 and on the rest it decreed decreases of $580,730.

Hayes, Schellmeyer and Clyde Carson and William Appel, also real estate dealers, made up the 1927 board, which ordered a net increase of $11,871,541. Its final figure being $1,159,778,281. It decreased real estate valuations $285,540 on 22 complaints but increased personal property $15,227,481, including an advance of $1,180,000 on the Laclede Gas Light Co. to put the assessment in line with the value for rate-making purposes, and $2,951,521 on the capital stock of all banks and trust companies.

Schellmeyer, Carson, William K.

Hackmann, another real estate dealer, and J. J. Loecheitfeld, president of the Forest Park Lumber Co., were on the 1925 board. The first appointed by Mayor Miller. It made a net increase of $2,468,295, with a final assessment of $1,063,312,590. There was a decrease of $254,900 on 10 real estate complaints, including $100,000 on the Railway Exchange Building, which had been assessed at $4,200,000. The $2,715,000 increase on personal property included an arbitrary assessment of $2,000,000 against 15 domestic insurance companies, which by court action the year before had prevented the city from taxing their capital stock, and which occupied paying personal property taxes, although they had large assets of this nature. The remaining $715,000 of the increase was against 25 finance companies making loans on automobiles and miscellaneous possessions.

Only a doctor knows what a laxative should be

YOU don't want to use a laxative every day. Nor once a week. This should not be necessary. And it never would be required if all of us would learn the danger that lies in a careless selection of laxatives.

By taking the first thing that comes to mind when unpleasant breath, headaches, dizziness, nausea, biliousness, gas and bowels, poor appetite, or lack of energy, warns us that our bowels are inactive, we risk forming the laxative habit.

Rely on a doctor's judgment in choosing your laxative. Here's one made from the prescriptions of a specialist in bowel and stomach trouble. Its originator tried it in many thousands of cases. He found it safe for women, children and old folks; thoroughly effective for the most robust man. There were many calls for this prescription that its fame spread so rapidly that druggists began to fill quantities; kept it ready for use. Now Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, is prepared from freshest herbs and other ingredients under ideal conditions. You can get the genuine from it from drug stores in all parts of the world.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a real corrective of constipation. Millions have proven this. Why it is today the world's most popular laxative!

AKRON OFFICER, SHOT
BY GANGSTERS, DIES

Patrolman Wounded One of Assailants, Who Later Was Captured With Companion.

By the Associated Press.
AKRON, O., March 10.—Patrolman Harlan F. Manes, 33 years old, who was wounded in a fight with gangsters Saturday preceding the capture of two gunmen, died yesterday.

Chief McDonnell is working on the theory that the gangsters had come here to kill someone.

One of the men, who was wounded by the patrolman and who gave the name as Frankie Schultz, 35, of Chicago and St. Louis, is believed to be a St. Louis gangster. The other gangster gave his name as Elihu Randall, alias Bert Walker,
28, of St. Louis.

In his investigation, McDonnell sent photographs and finger prints to St. Louis police to make identification positive.

The gangsters were captured
when the Chief, at the head of a squad, smashed the door of a cottage and found it strongly fortified. Wrestling a Thompson submachine gun from a middle-aged woman who stood guard at the door, he entered the house and found Randall and Schultz. Neither resisted. The woman also was held.

In the house were half a dozen large automatic pistols, many rounds of ammunition, nitro-glycerine, two sawed-off shotguns
and a long range rifle.

The gun battle took place early in the day when Manes started to investigate a trivial automobile accident. The occupants of the car opened fire and ran.

Youth Who Tried to Steal
Auto Caught After 10-Block Chase.

A youth who broke a window in an effort to steal a sedan parked in front of 417 North Seventh street yesterday afternoon, leaped from the machine

when Detective James Turner approached. After a 10-block chase through streets and alleys, during which the detective fired five shots, the fugitive ran into a light standard and fell to the sidewalk

at Seventh and Locust streets.

At City Hospital, where he was treated for lacerations, a skull injury and alcoholism, the prisoner said his name was George Meyers and that he lived at 818 Chambers street. He told police he wanted the machine to take some girl for a drive.

The Rev. Joseph Collins, pastor of Visitation Catholic Church, was awakened by a burglar ransacking the rectory last night. When the pastor called to him, the robber fled, taking the priest's trousers,
the pockets of which contained $15.

Burt Kincer, 2905 North Nineteenth street, gave two Negro beggars 25 cents when they stopped him on Blair avenue near O'Fall-on street. As he turned, one struck him and he was dragged into an alley where he resisted them until they fled. He was beaten badly. He told police he had saved the rest of his money

"Chain Stores a Benefit"

says Professor H. E. Bice
H. E. Bice, Professor of Marketing, Syracuse University, like other students of science, views the facts in an unbiased and impartial manner. He says:
"Chain Store growth is a logical part of the development of large scale enterprise in the United States. The chain store is doing much toward the desired objective."
OUT OF 45 PROFESSORS WHO WERE ASKED FOR THEIR OPINION OF THE CHAIN STORE METHOD, 43 REPLIED. EVERYONE OF THE 43 SAID THAT HE CONSIDERED THE CHAIN STORE A BENEFIT TO THE PUBLIC.

WHIPPED CREAM HAS A HUNDRED USES

When Ordering Cream for Whipping, Ask for Whipping Cream.

Cream freezes at 32 degrees or less, whips at 32 to 44 degrees and churns at 48 degrees or more. It's easy to see that to whip cream successfully it must be cold. The safe procedure is to test cream before whipping, with a "cooking" thermometer.

In addition, chill the bowl and the whipper, or they will warm the cream above the proper "whipping" temperature and the whipped cream will likely turn to butter.

When cream is whipped, the fat globules cluster together and air is forced between the clusters. The more air forced into the cream the fluffier and lighter the whipped cream will be.

Day-old cream is better for whipping. Whenever possible it is advisable to order cream for whipping a day in advance.

HOW TO TEST NOT FAT FOR DEEP FAT FRYING

Success of This Mode of Cooking Depends Upon Intense Heat of the Fat.

Drop an inch cube of bread, from soft part of loaf, and if in one minute it is golden brown, the fat is at the right temperature for frying any batter or dough.

If after heating the fat, an inch cube of bread is golden brown in 40 seconds, the fat is then of the right temperature for frying any cooked mixture.

To Clarify Fat. Melt fat, add raw potato, cut in quarter-inch slices, and allow fat to heat gradually; when fat ceases to bubble and potatoes are brown, strain carefully. The potatoes absorb any odors or gases and collect some of the sediment, the remainder settling to bottom of kettle.

If a kettle of fat should catch fire while being heated, do not attempt to lift or remove it from the fire. Turn off the gas or electricity and cover with a heavy cloth wrung out in cold water, or place a lid on it if no heavy cloth or towel is at hand. Never pour water on it.

Golden Gate Custard. Prepare it as follows: Add the grated rind of one orange to the juice. Sift one cup soft bread crumbs through a coarse strainer; add one-half cup milk and the orange juice and rind. Beat three separated eggs separately; add one-half cup sugar to yolks and then add to the custard; mix well, then fold in stiffly beaten whites of eggs. Pour in a pudding dish, set dish in a pan of hot water and bake until firm, about 30 minutes, in a moderate oven. If the water in the pan boils, reduce the heat.

Thought for the Day. There has been a lot of discussion, and in fact there still is, on the subject of bread. There is no need to be afraid of using bread if it is used as one part of a mixed diet. Most of the bread nowadays is made with milk and is a very nutritious article of food. It is a good plan to vary the types of bread used in the household, including those made of whole grain flours and by making bran muffins, corn bread, etc.

DOCTORS SAY THIS IS BEST KIND OF BRAN

93% of Group of Physicians Favor Natural 100% Bran as Laxative.

Ten thousand doctors were recently asked this question: "Do you believe that raw natural 100% bran is the best form of bran for the relief of constipation?"

93% of the answers were "Yes." Bran is especially advised for the relief of one of the worst troubles of modern life. Pillsbury's Bran is natural 100% bran, nothing added, nothing taken away. The overwhelming opinion of these doctors recommends Pillsbury's Bran as the best kind for the relief of atonic constipation—irregularity which results from bowel sluggishness.

Don't trifle with constipation. Medical science says that 90% of modern city people are more or less affected. Headaches, loss of vitality, sallow cheeks, nervousness, sleeplessness, and increased susceptibility to serious diseases—these are the dangers. Add roughage to your diet—your protected primitive man, and it will protect you.

Pillsbury's Bran is the best form—it gives you the full, gentle, natural laxative action of the unbroken flakes of pure bran. You can use it to prepare any number of delicious foods—muffins, tea cakes, apple cake, macaroons, doughnuts, etc.—the recipes are on the Pillsbury package. You can sprinkle it over salads, or mix it with cereals. You can eat it as it comes from the package, with cream and sugar. No matter how you take it, you may be sure Pillsbury's Bran will do the work—it is natural 100% bran, the kind that doctors recommend.

SOCCER TITLE CARDS BAT ATHLETIC PITCHERS HARD AND WIN AGAIN; SCORE 16 TO 9

TABLERS BEAT MADISONS AND INCREASE LEAD IN SOCCER RACE

Playing before a small crowd, the Tablers defeated the Madisons 16 to 9, to increase their lead in the St. Louis Soccer League race today. The Tablers, second place team in the standing, ground in being held to a 2-1 by the Ben Millers. Field conditions at Sportsman's Park were ideal.

Of the numerous recruits turned out by the managers, Center forward Quinn of the Ben Millers played greatest success. He was largely responsible for a two-goal lead at the conclusion of the first half. In the second period, Helbrung offense got moving and the score was tied on two shots by O'Reilly.

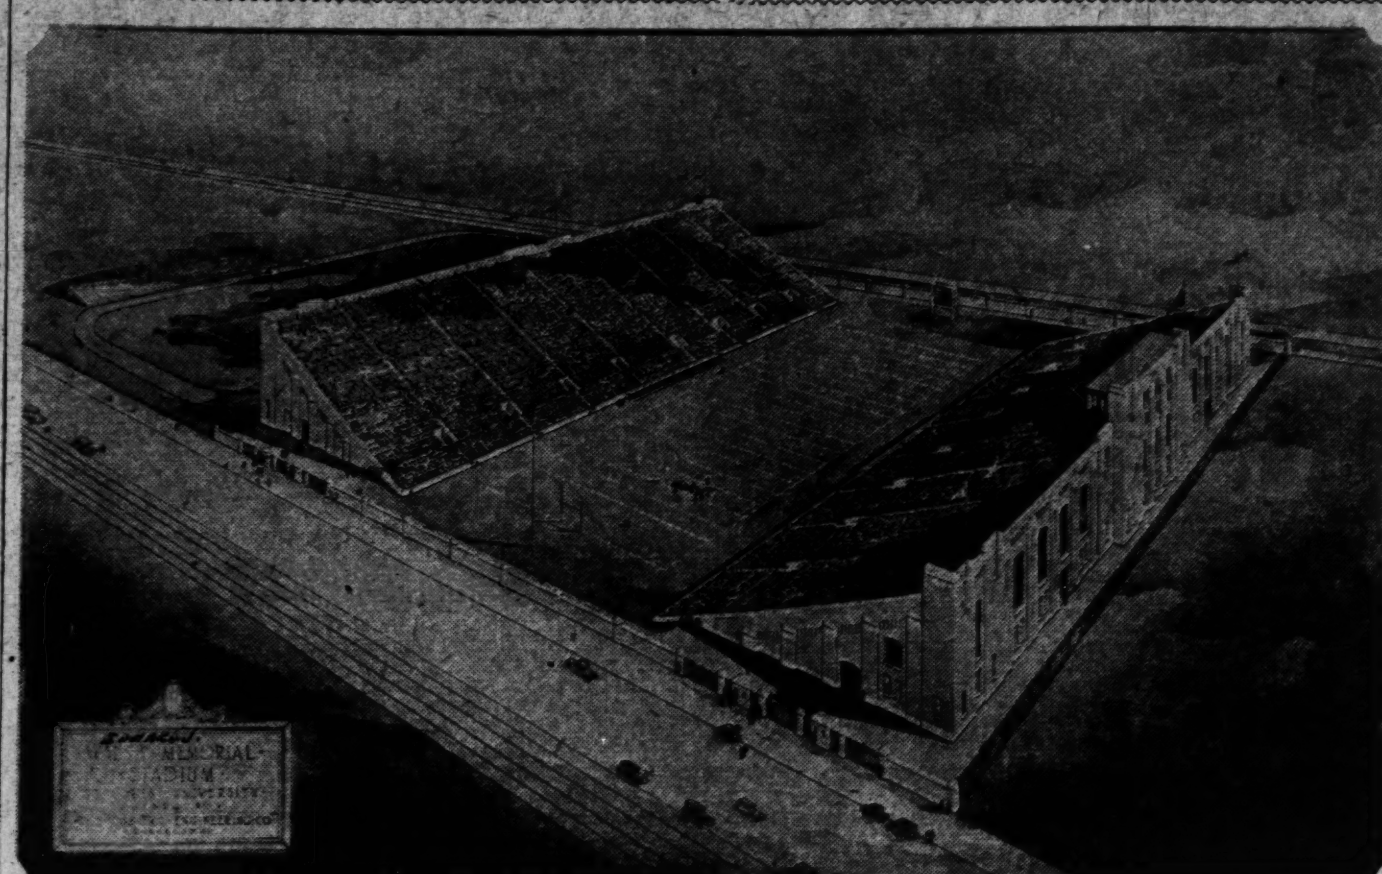

McGill, injured fullback, turned to duty for John Marz, club, playing beside Dorley. Peck, a work of center forward, showed improvement over his previous efforts.

COLUMBIA AND PENNSY IN CLOSE FIGHT FOR EASTERN LEAGUE PLAY

NEW YORK, March 10.—An exciting finish to the Eastern League basketball season is being played at New York on Wednesday. Columbia battles Penn in Philadelphia, and on Saturday the season ends with the Princeton-Penn game at Philadelphia.

Columbia leads the league with seven victories in eight starts. Penn has hopes of winning the third successive championship.

New St. Louis U. Stadium to Be Ready for Next Football Season

Architect's picturization of the new St. Louis University athletic stadium, costing $350,000, exclusive of the ground, on which preliminary work has begun, on the site on Oakland avenue, west of St. Louis U. High school, overlooking the south border of Forest Park. The construction program calls for the stadium to be ready for the 1930 football season.

PROTEST MAY DEPRIVE BADGERS OF MEET HONORS

By the Associated Press.
MINNESOTA, March 10.—A NOTE of discord appeared today to cast a shadow on the indoor track meet championship of the Western Conference awarded Saturday night to Wisconsin.

The Badgers scored 21 points to annex the title while Illinois was second with 18. Reports from Chicago yesterday, however, were to the effect that a statement concerning an alleged foul committed by a Wisconsin runner in a relay race had been sent to Referee Rawson.

Should that official uphold any protest made Wisconsin may lose two points as the result of disqualification from the relay race and Illinois gain two points and the meet.

After the race an infraction of the rules was reported by the course inspector to the referee, who was said at that time to have found no cause for disqualifying the Badger runner.

When Shores tossed the ball into right field, W. Myers walked. Peel tripped to left, scoring Douthitt and W. Myers. Peel scored on Douthitt's sacrifice fly to Leborveau. Rootiger fanned. Gelbert grounded to Foxx. FOUR RUNS.

ATHLETICS—Derringer went to pitch for the Cardinals. Perkins grounded to Delker, who returned to the game by agreement between the teams. Foxx walked. Miller forced Foxx. Bottomley to Delker. Leborveau fanned. W. Myers grounded to center. Hunt taking third. Derringer struck out. Douthitt and M. Myers also fanned.

ATHLETICS—Dykes flied to Douthitt. Boley singled through short. Shores singled through the box. Boley stopping at second. Williams singled to right, scoring Boley, but Shores was out at first. Douthitt to Hunt. Williams scored on Summa's long single to center. Perkins flied to Douthitt. TWO RUNS.

ATHLETICS—Foxx walked. Miller singled dot center. Leborveau flied to Delker. Dykes singled to center, scoring Foxx. Boley forced Dykes. Bottomley to Delker. Cramer batted for Shores and was struck out by W. Myers' error. Miller scored. Williams rolled to W. Myers. TWO RUNS.

$10,246 INCOME TAX ON RUTH'S SALARY

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 10.—Though Babe Ruth will receive a salary of $20,000 this year and next, he actually will receive less than $10,000 himself each time because $10,246 must go to pay the annual income tax.

A person with a salary of $20,000 who, like Ruth, is married and has two dependents is allowed an exemption of $4,500. Subtracting the amount exempted from the tax on the remainder under the 1929 tax reduction schedule would amount to $10,415, but the taxpayer would be allowed a credit of $422 for earned income, making his tax total $10,246.

ETHEL MCGARY NOT TO DEFEND SWIM TITLE

By the Associated Press.
BUFFALO, N. Y., March 10.—Ethel McGary, holder of the women's $50-yard indoor national swimming championship, will not defend her title in the A. U. meet opening Wednesday at Miami, Fla., she announced here today. The New York girl has been teaching swimming at a girls' school here for the past few months.

CONTRACT LET FOR STADIUM FOR ST. LOUIS U.

St. Louis University has signed a contract with a Cleveland, O., engineering firm for construction of the Edward J. Walsh memorial stadium, a gift of Mrs. Julia Marfitt Walsh to the university in memory of her son, Edward J. Walsh, which is to be erected, on Oakland avenue west of St. Louis U. High School. It is estimated by Father O'Regan, S. J., athletic director of St. Louis U., that the stadium will cost $350,000, exclusive of the ground, which the university already owns.

The contract calls for completion by Sept. 15 of stands with a seating capacity of 15,000, in addition to the football field and a practice field. The remaining units, comprising a baseball field, track, tennis courts and bleacher section, will be completed at the convenience of the university.

Dedication of the stadium likely will take place before the game with Missouri University on Saturday, Oct. 11.

Lighting for night games. Preliminary grading and excavation work already has started under direction of a St. Louis firm.

All the latest stadium equipment, including flood lights for night games, will be installed. Under the east stand, adjoining the practice field, will be dressing rooms, and all other necessary conveniences for athletes will be installed, while under the west stand will be offices and concession booths.

The north and south ends of the field will be left open, with only temporary seats used until such time as the need arises, when stands seating 10,000 will be erected.

The amount of Mrs. Walsh's gift was not stated at the time the announcement was made of her donation.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA AND WASHINGTON IN TITLE GAME TONIGHT

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, March 10.—With one victory each, the University of Washington and the University of Southern California basketball teams, divisional champions of the North and South coast, meet here tonight in the deciding game of the Pacific Coast championship series.

The Trojans annexed the first contest last Friday in a decisive 40-to-31 victory, but gave up a close struggle to the Washington Huskies, 24 to 21, Saturday night, sending the Huskies into a third game.

"TINY" ROEBUCK, WEIGHT 240, TO BOX SCHWAKE ON COLISEUM CARD

By W. J. McGoogan.

Forty-five rounds of boxing with Lou Terry, St. Louis, and Marty Fields of Chicago in the event announced as the feature are on tonight's program at the Coliseum promoted by Jack Tippet. Terry and Fields are scheduled to go 10 rounds.

Although the Terry-Fields bout has been advertised as the feature of the card, fans here seem more interested in the heavyweight scrap between John Schwake of Webster Groves and Tiny Roebuck of Kansas City.

Schwake knocked out Buck Weaver at The Arena last month. He can whistle, we are told. He can trill a sharp or flat. He's all right outside of that.

Roebuck has been inactive for eight months, however, due to the death of his father, and may find Schwake quite a tough opponent. Tiny arrived here yesterday morning, and went through a light workout at the National Gymnasium in the afternoon in company with several other boxers on tonight's card.

Once Famous Football Player.
Roebuck, who has been boxing for two years, gained early fame as left tackle on the Haskell Indian football team where he played for four years. He was mentioned for the All-America teams in 1926. Roebuck still plays football, and was a member of Clarence Saunders' Memphis Tigers, which handed the Green Bay Packers, last year's pro-champions, a 21 to 6 defeat at Memphis.

It was Jimmy Brownson, formerly of Joplin, Mo., and now one of the leading boxing managers of the country, who saw possibilities of a heavyweight champion in the giant Roebuck. Tiny was taken East where he lost on a technical knockout to Arthur D. Kuh, Brooklyn Italian last April.

"Tiny" was knocked out by Otto Von Ponal, the big Norwegians in the fifth round of their fight at Chicago, last year.

Roebuck also has participated in a few wrestling bouts and helped to train "Strangler" Lewis for his championship bout with Joe Stacher in St. Louis three years ago.

Fields, who faces Terry, also has been idle most of the winter. He has been in Chicago and taken a few wrestling bouts. Since his bout here against Charley Lupica, last fall, he has fought only six rounds, getting a draw with Al Greenfield.

Coliseum Program

Lou Terry, St. Louis, vs. Marty Fields, Chicago, 10 rounds, 154 pounds. Walter Helms, referee.

John Schwake, St. Louis, vs. Tiny Roebuck, Kansas City, 10 rounds, heavyweight. Bob Parkinson, referee.

Al Stillman, St. Louis, vs. Fred Callen, San Francisco, 10 rounds, 168 pounds. Bob Parkinson, referee.

Joe Glimont, St. Louis, vs. Paul Steadman, St. Louis, 10 rounds, 126 pounds. Harry Kessler, referee.

Joe Stanton, St. Louis, vs. Ray Palmer, St. Louis, five rounds, 154 pounds. Harry Kessler, referee.

First bout starts at 8:30 p. m.

Case tonight, Roebuck is 6 feet 4 1/2 inches tall and weighs close to 240 pounds. He is said to pack quite a punch and has knocked out a number of his opponents, among them Big Boy Petersen, whom Carners killed in his first bout to this country.

Roebuck like Eight Months.
Roebuck has been inactive for eight months, however, due to the death of his father, and may find Schwake quite a tough opponent. Tiny arrived here yesterday morning, and went through a light workout at the National Gymnasium in the afternoon in company with several other boxers on tonight's card.

FRIEL AND HEINE MANUSH TO TALK OVER SALARY DIFFERENCES TODAY

BROWNS' STAR LIKELY TO SIGN;
OTHER HOLDOUTS NOT HEARD FROM

By James M. Gould

Of the Post-Dispatch Sports Staff.
WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 10.—Business Manager Friel of the Browns arrived today to discuss things in general and Manush's contract in particular. Friel hopes to have his talk with Manush today, though Heine is supposed to be on an all-day fishing trip.

Friel said that so far as he knew, Kress, Blaholder and Grimes still are holdouts or were when he left St. Louis. He tells of the receipt of a wire from Kress sent from California and received by Bill on route, saying simply "I wish I were with you." Only that and nothing more.

The St. Louis club has made its final offer to all four of its holdouts, Friel says. He is ready to talk things over with any or all of them, but the club's bid positively will not be raised.

Scout Buck Freeman, who will umpire the exhibition and games, also appeared today.

Killefer's Work Hampered.
Killefer will be glad when and if he can have his full squad with which to work. The absentees have cramped Bill's managerial style to a certain extent in so far as letting him determine his probable starting lineup for the season. He would have to do some ground-and-jeffy picking and choosing should the team begin operations without Manush, Kress and Blaholder.

Grimes is a negligible quantity, and it is difficult to see how he figures he ought to be a holdout. For most young players, the chance at a major league berth would prove so attractive that salary would be a secondary question. But not Mr. Grimes, who, in his brief baseball career, has shown many signs of temperment.

Whether Kress or Blaholder has done any training work is not known here. Manush looks in fine physical shape, which doesn't mean fine baseball shape.

Training Camp Sideights.
The young catcher, Leslie Shanks, has left to join the Milwaukee club, and his successor in the warm-up role, in the person of William Rogers, late of the California State League, has arrived.

Fred Bennett has had his first workout, as the result of which an observer can tell exactly nothing as to his improvement over his form of two years ago down here. Naturally, his first day's work was a light one. Intensive work in preparation for an exhibition schedule of 25 games will be this week's order.

Killefer already has announced that Fred Stelly, the young southpaw, will start against Buffalo at Fort Lauderdale Friday, and it is probable that Holshouser and Caldwell will see service in the two-game Milwaukee series here which immediately follows the Buffalo engagement.

Four Homers in Practice Game.
In yesterday's practice game, the Browns either won or lost by a 5-4 score, depending on which group of Brownians was which. Mr. Hill's homer off Stelly in the last of the ninth decided the issue. Holshouser and Stelly worked for the winners and Caldwell and Stelly for the losers. The contest was for charity and $150 was realized for the milk fund.

There were four homers in the game. Stelly hit the first ball pitched for one and Badger, Jimmy Austin and McIlroy got the others. Austin, the 56-year-old coach, played sensationally throughout the nine innings.

After the second inning, both teams were composed of St. Louis players. Before that, two amateurs took part. Regulars were equally divided between the two teams.

Gallic, with two clean and hard hits strengthened the good impression he had made.

LOCAL STOCK RANGES ARE MOSTLY LOWER

International Shoe Closes Unchanged After Price Recession and National Candy Is Unaltered at Close.

ST. LOUIS STOCK EXCHANGE, March 10.—International Shoe was lower, Wagner Electric and Brown Shoe unchanged and Missouri Portland higher in initial trades of the week on the local market. All but 25 shares of the Shoe issue sold at 60. Wagner Electric and Brown Shoe reacted for lower closes.

Bentley opened unchanged and sold lower and National candy rose after unchanged start, but did not hold gain.

A small lot of St. Louis Public Service common sold at 64, or 2 1/2 points off. Altogether, 110 shares sold with close at 63. Money Electric was lower.

After 5 shares of Mississippi Valley Trust had sold at 236, 20 shares lots changed hands at 235, down 5 points.

Local Business and Financial Items

(Paragraphs for publication in this column should be addressed to the Financial Editor.)

McQuay-Norris filed for 1929 of $476,134, after reserves for depreciation of $180,320, provision for income taxes of $53,131 and amortization of patents of $1,747. Net income for 1929 was $262,474. President Norris in his report to stockholders points out that the fiscal year established a new high record of both sales and profits at the company. There was an average of 105,730 shares outstanding during the year and at the end of the year 311,990 shares.

Joseph M. Murphy and Arthur Smith of the Mercantile-Commerce Bank and Trust Co., have become associated with Kenneth H. Bittling & Co., Inc.

The consolidated net profits of the Lambert Co. for last year amounted to $7,019,349, equal to $10.04 a share on 698,996 shares of capital stock outstanding at the end of the year. On a similar basis consolidated net profits for 1928 would have been $6,224,726, equal to $8.92 a share on the same number of shares.

Ben W. Lighty is now associated with Woods, Faulkner & Co.

The Franklin-American Co., investment division of the Franklin-American Trust Co., will conduct business both at the bank at Seventh and Locust streets and at the former quarters of the Real Estate Mortgage Co., 1000 Pine street, while adequate quarters are being prepared for it at the bank.

EXTRA $4.50 ON SINGER MFG.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 10.—Directors of the Singer Manufacturing Co. today declared an extra dividend to the regular quarterly payment of $2.50. Both dividends are payable March 31 to stock of record March 10. Extra dividends of $3.50 each were declared in the December and September quarters of last year, while last June an extra of $4.50 was paid.

The common stock of the Lone Star Gas Corporation was placed on a $1 annual dividend basis when directors voted a quarterly payment of 25 cents a share, payable March 31, to stock of record March 17. Previously the stock paid 20 cents quarterly.

STOCK EXCHANGE TO CLOSE EARLY TUESDAY IN MEMORY OF TAFT

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 10.—The New York Stock Exchange today announced that the exchange would close at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow in memory of former Chief Justice William Howard Taft. The regular closing time is 3 o'clock.

The New York Curb Exchange will also close at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow, instead of 3 p.m.

Later it was announced that the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange and the New York Produce Exchange would close at 12:30 p.m. and that trading by the Unlisted Security Dealers' Association and the Association of Bank Stock Dealers will cease at that hour.

CHICAGO, March 10.—The Chicago Stock Exchange and the Board of Trade will close at 11:30 a.m. tomorrow in memory of William Howard Taft.

The St. Louis Stock Exchange and the Merchants' Exchange will close at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday along with other exchanges of the country.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 10.—Total sales amounted to $10,561,000, compared with $5,858,000 Saturday, $8,123,000 a week ago and $8,772,000 a year ago. Total sales from Jan. 1 to date were $482,317,000, compared with $504,522,000 last year and $684,700,000 two years ago.

Quotations on all Liberty bonds are in dollars and thirty-second of a dollar, that is, for instance, a sale printed 99-24 means 99 and twenty-four thirty-second of a dollar, and not $99.24.

Following is a complete list of bonds traded on the New York Stock Exchange today, giving sales, high and low closing prices.

MAJORITY OF SHARES HIGHER ON CURB

NEW YORK, March 10.—Following is a complete list of securities traded in on the New York Curb Exchange today, giving sales, highest, lowest and closing prices on all stocks and bonds.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Liquidation of several of the utility shares turned the Curb market irregular today, although the bull crowd made vigorous efforts to reassert control of the price movement by bidding up selected issues to higher levels for the year. On the whole, the majority of shares closed higher, and losses were small.

Several of the industrials continued upward, with Deere a notable leader. The new stock of 40 points and the old stock of 15. Crock-Wheeler mounted further into the air stocks were in demand. Consolidated Aircraft rising couple of points to a new top of 28, a new top.

In the utility group, the Industrial stocks were strong and more active than of late. Middle West Utilities reached new high ground above 35. Southern Electric, however, drifted lower.

Power, Electric Bond and United Light were under moderate pressure. United Light B, which is not very active, dropped about 10 points. Nevada-California Electric, also a rather quiet stock, on the other hand jumped 3 points.

In the investment points, Goldman Sachs sold up a couple of points to a new top above 44, then slipped back about a point. Lehman Brothers in realizing. Cities Service sold up a fraction in the afternoon. General Petroleum eased.

Among the soft spots were 1. Fleckman and General Printing. Off about 5 points each to a new issue of Warren Bros. 1 for 1 split. admitted to trading on a new issue basis. The stock was actively trading between 60 and 61 1/2.

Banker Warns Against Dishonest Statisticians. Trowbridge Callaway, Head of Investment Group, Here for Dinner Tonight.

Statistics, once considered dry and uninteresting, have come into public popularity with the development of present-day economics. Trowbridge Callaway of New York, president of the Investment Bankers' Association of America, said today on his arrival to be the guest of honor at a dinner to be given tonight at the Congress Hotel by the Mississippi Valley branch.

"It has been estimated by the Research Committee of the Financial Advertisers' Association that there are 15,000,000 holders of securities in the United States, of whom 3,000,000 are bond buyers," Callaway said. "Their interest in studying and investigating possibilities for their savings is a wholesome development."

"While this is highly desirable," he continued, "unfortunately there are tipsters, unscrupulous promoters and security fakers who have seized the appeal of statistics and now are peddling statistical services as a bait to hook the savings of the uninformed. That there are reputable statistical organizations that perform a legitimate and valuable service makes the shams of the fakers all the more harmful and effective."

However, as valuable as economic and statistical research is to business and investing, it should be realized that even the most reliable statistics are not a substitute for common sense. The aged warning that the buyer should know that the seller of securities is honest and a competent judge of values needs an amendment to include a word to beware of dishonest and incompetent statisticians.

CORPORATION REPORTS. NEW YORK, March 10.—Operations of the American Woolen Co. for 1929 resulted in a net loss of $123,190, compared with a net loss of $1,262,263 in 1928. The profit and loss surplus on Dec. 31, 1929, was $9,684,972, as against $12,913,162 in 1928.

Net earnings of the Otis Steel Co. for 1928 amounted to $3,687,890, equal to $2.41 a share on $41.092 non-par common shares, as compared with $3,270,922, or $2.15 a share in 1927. In his report to the stockholders, E. J. Kulas, president, stated that operations were unusually active during the first nine months, followed by a sharp drop in the last quarter. Since then the operations of the company have advanced to 80 per cent of rated capacity.

The Hershey Chocolate Corporation of Hershey, Pa., and affiliated companies, report that for 1929 net profits amounted to $7,455,779, equal to $7.65 a common share, as compared with $6,456,358, or $6.95 a share.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Stocks of grain on farms March 10, announced today by the Department of Agriculture included 129,153,000 bushels of corn, or 37.7 per cent of the 1929 crop, and 129,153,000 bushels of wheat, or 16.0 per cent of last year's crop.

COTTON PRICES IRREGULAR ON NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, March 10.—The cotton market was less active today and fluctuations were irregular. An early decline in the market was followed by a recovery, but prices remained irregular.

A WOMAN

By Marguerite M. Marshall.

BETTER OR WORSE.

"T HE long and short of it is, marriage is a trial to try a woman, and for nothing on earth besides," fiercely declares Tilly in that widely and deservedly popular novel of a wife's heroism and sacrifice, "Ultima Thule."

Every woman, no matter how happily married, has had moments when she felt like Tilly. Fortunately, many wives have had many other moments of a different nature—not only moments, but hours and years, when marriage interested and inspired. Instead of irked and irritated. Also, plenty of women, those divorcing days, try marriage instead of letting it "try" them—and if at first they don't succeed, they try again.

Their reaction is sufficiently observed—and obvious. As the novelist John Cowper Powys, pointed out in his recent New York debate with Bertrand Russell, the world always hears about the divorces, but learns nothing of the millions of silent, happy couples. One reason why we are not silent about them in this column is because we think they need a press agent, if only to encourage the youngster hesitating on the brink of matrimony.

They do exist, today as yesterday, these basically right and enduring marriages; and they cannot be destroyed, wives know, by the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune. It doesn't matter how free and easy divorce may be, how dwindling the religious and social prejudices against it—the woman who utterly loves her husband stays by him for better, for worse, because she loves him and wants more than anything in the world, to help him and make him happy.

No matter how marriage "tries" her, she takes the bitter with the sweet—not because she is held by law or convention but because her own tenderness and devotion will not let her go. She is no meek victim. She is a gallant, high-spirited fighter for her own—for the fine, true made between herself and her husband, under the superficial discords.

THE victorious wife, whom most of us know and some of us are, exalted than in that noble novel, "Ultima Thule," from which we have already quoted; a novel, as any woman reader would guess, written by a mature woman of intelligence and fine sympathies, despite her masculine pseudonym, "Henry Handel Richardson."

Here is the story of a real marriage between Richard Mahony and his Mary Brilliant and lovable Richard is cursed with false pride, reckless judgment, stubborn self-confidence, a disastrous inability to adapt himself to circumstances, a morbid sensitiveness. Losing his fortune in England, he goes to Australia to make a new start for his wife and children, but before their arrival, plunges into debt in order to provide a too pretentious home. He is one of those men who are ashamed to reveal their exact financial condition to their wives, and who then, secretly and most unfairly, blame the wives for extravagance.

He worries so much over his debts that his work as a doctor suffers. Next, he becomes obsessed with the desire to throw up even the measure of success he has attained and start once more "up-country"—though the change is the worst possible thing for his children and has nothing to recommend it except his own neurotic impatience and restlessness. Mary pleads to keep their home. She offers to take in boarders, she begs for a single convincing reason for the upheaval—all in vain.

Y ET, of course, she goes with him and bravely starts at another home. In her moment of deepest bitterness she looks at him as devoted as wives do look, "and the result / was the amazed reflection: 'But he's got the eyes of a child.'—for all his wrinkles and gray hairs!"

Through ever-increasing financial straits, through professional failure largely induced by his own weakness, through his self-tormenting and wife-tormenting impulses and moods, through final failure of health and mind, Mary loves and suffers and stands by her husband.

Why? And the answer of Mary's creator, a woman: "Dear God! . . . those passionate angers he roused in her, the unspeakable irritations she was capable of feeling with him, were things of the surface only. Dig deeper, and nothing mattered . . . but him. Aye, dig only deep enough, and her heart was raw with pity for him. Let what might happen to her, let the children go short, run wild; let him drag them at his heels the whole world over; she would submit to everything, endure everything, if she could only see him—Richard, her own dear husband!—hold up his head once more, carry himself with the old confidence."

What she matters . . . what did anything or anybody matter?—if only she could restore to health, and contrive to keep in something of the comfort he had been used to, this poor old comrade of the years!

That is how a woman feels if she is a wife—and not, in the careful distinction made by a friend of ours, "just a married woman."

THE WAY OF A WOMAN

BETTER OR WORSE

THE long and short of it, marriage is sent to try us women, and for nothing on earth besides. It is a test, a trial, a test of a wife's heroism and sacrifice. "Ultima Thule." Every woman, no matter how happily married, has had moments when she felt like Tilly. Fortunately, many wives have had many other moments of a different nature—not only moments, but hours and years, when marriage interested and inspired, instead of irked and irritated. Also, many of women in these divorcing days, try marriage instead of letting it "try" them—and if at first they don't succeed, they try, try again.

Their reaction is sufficiently observed—and obvious. As the novelist, John Cowper Powys, pointed out in his recent New York debate with Bertrand Russell, the world always hears about the divorce, but learns nothing of the millions of silent, happy couples. One reason why we are not silent about them in this column is because we think they need a press agent, if only to encourage the young people hesitating on the brink of matrimony.

They do exist, today as yesterday, these basically right and enduring marriages; and they are not destroyed, wives know, by the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune. It doesn't matter how free and easy divorce may be, how dwindling the religious and social prejudices against it—the woman who utterly loves her husband stays by him for better, for worse, because she loves him and wants, more than anything in the world, to help him and make him happy.

No matter how marriage "tries" her, she takes the bitter with the sweet—not because she is held by law or convention but because her own tenderness and devotion will not let her go. She is no meek victim. She is a gallant, high-hearted fighter for her own—for the fine, true music between her and her husband, under the superficial discord.

THE victorious wife, whom most of us know and some of us are, is nowhere as inspiring as the woman in that noble novel, "Ultima Thule," from which we have already quoted; a novel, as any woman reader would guess, written by a mature woman of independent mind and fine sympathies, despite her masculine pseudonym, Henry Handel Richardson.

Here is the story of a real marriage between Richard Mahony and Mary Brilliant, a lovely girl who is cursed with false pride, peevish judgment, stubborn self-confidence, a disastrous inability to adapt himself to circumstances, a morbid sensitivity to his own fortune in England, he goes to Australia to make a new start for his wife and children, but before their arrival plunges into debt in order to provide a too pretentious home. He is one of those men who are ashamed to reveal their exact financial condition to their wives, and who then, secretly and most safely, blame the wives for extravagance.

He worries so much over his debt that his work as a doctor suffers. Next, he becomes obsessed with the desire to throw up even the measure of success he has attained and start once more "up-country"—though the change is the worst possible thing for all his children and has nothing to recommend it except his own neurotic impatience and restlessness. Mary pleads to keep their home, she offers to take in boarders, she begs for a single convincing reason for the upheaval—all in vain.

YET, of course, she goes with him and bravely starts another home. In her moment of deepest bitterness she looks at him as devoted as wives do look, and the result is the amazed reflection: "But he's got the eyes of a child." And for all his wrinkles and gray hairs!

Through ever-increasing financial straits, through professional failure largely induced by his own weakness, through his self-tormenting and wife-tormenting impatience and moods, through final failure of health and mind, Mary loves and suffers and stands by her husband.

Why? Read the answer of Mary's creator, a woman: "Dear God! . . . these passionate anger he roused in her, the unpeppable irritations she was capable of feeling with him, were things of the surface only. Dig deeper, and nothing mattered. . . . but him. Age, dig only deep enough, and her heart was raw with pity for him. Let what might happen to her; let the children go; let him drag them out of his heels the whole world over; she would submit to everything, endure everything, if she could only see him—Richard, her own dear husband—build up his head once more, carry himself with the old confidence. . . . what did anything or anybody matter? . . . only she could restore to health, and contrive to keep in something of the comfort he had been used to, this poor old comrade of the years! . . . ## LITTLE "WHOOPEE" IN HOLLYWOOD THESE DAYS, SAYS COLLEEN MOORE

Colleen Moore, her brother, Cleve Moore, and their mother, Mrs. Charles W. Morrison, photographed at a reunion in St. Louis.

Motion Picture Star, in St. Louis With Her Mother and Brother, Talks of Films, Fashions and Life Among Screen Celebrities—A New Game to Entertain House Party.

By Fay Proffitt.

RUSHING half-way across the continent at a moment's notice to arrive in St. Louis early yesterday morning, Colleen Moore, movie star and comedienne, was the center of interest at a hastily arranged family reunion at Hotel Coronado, yesterday. The occasion was the celebration of the first appearance in a leading part for her brother, Cleve Moore, who opened a week's engagement here in "June Moon," at the Shubert Rialto Theatre, last night. The happiness of the star of the silver screen and the new leading man seemed complete with the presence of their no less attractive mother, Mrs. Charles R. Morrison, who accompanied her daughter from Los Angeles.

Colleen Moore, that holdenish heroine of motion picture successes, was no different out of the movies than when, as a high-stepping film flapper, she romped through a half-dozen celluloid reels. Quite tall and slender, with dancing brown eyes, and her dark brown hair cut in a straight bob, she was dressed simply in a tan sport dress of a tweed mixture. A wide belt defined the high waistline and a flat brown bow of velvet ornamented the neckline at the front. She wore beige hose and tan and brown slippers.

She was not, however, playing a part, when with adoring eyes she looked at her brother and talked of his work rather than her own eventful career.

"When we heard that our young hopeful was to go on in the lead in St. Louis, we made up our minds in a moment and rushed right out to see him, and I am just as excited over his debut as a prima donna on her first night." The dancing eyes became quite serious. "He always seems so little to me. I suppose it goes back to the time when I was 4 and he was 2."

Cleve, you should see your swimming pool now, mother will have to have it cleaned out before you come home," she continued. Miss Moore, whose last picture was "Foot Lights and Fools," a talkie, plans to make two or three more pictures and retire. "I would like to do a rip roaring comedy, just good old-fashioned hokum," she said. Of all the pictures she has acted in she likes "I'll Take Time" and "No Biggie" best. She thinks every picture should have a happy ending for, according to Miss Moore, all movie fans like to see the heroine in orange blossoms. "I have always been in pictures," she said, "so my brother's work interests me tremendously because the stage to me is new and so different. I wonder what it is like to be on the stage."

Daily Story FOR CHILDREN

By Mary Graham Bonner

Wind's Housecleaning

THE LITTLE BLACK CLOCK had used his magic to turn the time back a few evenings—so that John and Peggy were able to go along with the Wind on one of his windiest adventures. Not only could the Little Black Clock turn the time backward or forward, but he had magic enough to allow the children to meet and understand all of the members of Nature's family. "I'm going housecleaning," said the March Wind, and the Little Black Clock took the brooms the March Wind gave them, and they swept the air and rattled window-shutters and did the jolliest kind of housecleaning.

More Refrigerator Room

IT is often necessary to economize on space in the refrigerator. A good way to do this is to keep on hand a few wire shelves similar to, but smaller than those fitted in the refrigerator. At this expense is objectionable, pieces of thin lumber from an orange crate will answer the purpose. They should be cut sufficiently long to extend beyond the edge of the dishes they cover. Two or three dishes of food can thus be placed on top of each other and vegetables may be stored directly on the top shelf. Of course the boards must be scalded occasionally to keep them sanitary.

Soiled Paper

That blackened wall paper above the register can be cleaned quite easily with an ordinary red rubber sponge. Use it dry and rub lightly on the paper with a downward motion. The sponge can be cleaned in warm suds, thoroughly dried and used over and over again.

KOTEX IS SHAPED TO FIT

KOTEX is shaped to fit. That means you have inconspicuous protection. You can feel immaculate and dainty. For Kotex deodorizes most effectively. Then, too, Kotex is hygienically safe. Over 85% of our leading hospitals have chosen the very same material of which Kotex is made, because of its remarkable efficiency and surgical purity. Kotex, you know, is made of Cellucotton (not cotton) absorbent wadding . . . a cellulose substance which performs the same sanitary function as the finest cotton, but with five times the absorbency. Kotex is disposable. Just think what that fact alone means. Kotex Company, Chicago, Ill.

Right Way to Plant a Tree

(NATIONAL GARDEN BUREAU.)

IN planting trees, the hole should be dug considerably larger than the spread of the roots and deep enough to allow a goodly amount of loose soil to be left in the bottom before the tree is planted. As the soil is removed, the topsoil should be placed in a pile separate from the subsoil. Any fertilizer that is to be used can be mixed thoroughly with the soil or covered in the hole in such a way that it will not come in direct contact with the roots of the plants. If the subsoil is very hard and heavy it should be broken up. Frequently it is thought that if the hard soil taken out is not used and good soil substituted, the tree will have a better chance, but this is not always the case. Water will easily penetrate all loose soil, and failing to escape, will settle around the tree, often causing it to die. This is best to provide drainage by breaking up the subsoil, and if drainage is provided, any amount of good soil can be used to fill the hole if it seems desirable. The tree should be pruned as shown in the figure. In removing broken or diseased parts of roots, the cut should be clean and sharp and so slanted that the exposed surface will be toward the bottom of the hole. This insures a more ready contact between the root end and the soil, thus providing a better water supply and better chances for an early and quick growth of new roots. In planting the tree, cover the bottom of the hole with a layer of loose subsoil in which manure or fertilizer has been thoroughly mixed. Place the tree in the hole, spreading the roots out naturally, and cover well with topsoil. The soil can be worked in about the roots by shaking the tree up and down and by working a stick the size of a broom handle in among the roots as the soil is thrown in. After the roots are covered with soil, the ground should be firmed about them by packing the ground with the feet. When the soil throws in about the roots is not fine enough to prevent the formation of little air pockets, a good soaking will be of great help. The water will wash loose soil particles into these voids and around the roots. Soaking or puddling the ground about trees is also beneficial when the tree is planted late in the season after the birds have started to swell. The puddling will do the same work.

Sugar and Flour Sacks

Many of us use the cotton sugar and flour sacks for lettuce containers, jelly strainers and even dish cloths, but first we must get rid of any printing that is on them. Rub the printed surface with lard and then boil the sack for 16 minutes. All spots will disappear.

When buying oranges, lemons and grapefruit, select those that are heavy, as they contain more juice.

Dyeing
When using dye be sure that the powder is absolutely dissolved in boiling water before adding it to the big vessel in which the dyeing takes place. It is well to strain it into the dye vessel, then you are certain; otherwise, blotches of color will appear in the material.

You will like Kotex because of its rounded tapered corners

KOTEX IS SOFT . . .

- 1—Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a delicate, lasting softness.
- 2—Kotex filler is far lighter and cooler than cotton, yet absorbs 3 times as much.
- 3—Disposable, instantly, completely.

Remove Kotex—4¢ for 12. Kotex Sanitary—5¢ for 12.

As delightful to use as perfume . . . yet it kills the germs of common colds

BREATHE VAPEX ANYWHERE—ANYTIME—FOR INSTANT RELIEF FROM COLDS

No OTHER TREATMENT for colds is so delightfully refreshing as Vapex. Certainly, none is swifter or more convenient. Just a drop on your handkerchief brings instant relief—all-day-long relief. Just a drop at each end of your pillow fights your cold while you sleep. With a few deep breaths your head clears, sniffling stops, all annoyance vanishes. Waking or sleeping, you breathe your cold away. . . . Vapex is both powerful and effective largely because it is so very concentrated. A single application keeps its strength all day or all night long, and the Vapex vapor, for all it is so delightful to inhale, kills the germs of common colds. Tests in the foremost laboratories have strikingly proved it. . . . Actually Vapex costs only as an application, for the 8¢ bottle contains fifty applications. Always ask your druggist for V-A-P-E-X in the trim white box with the green triangle. Don't expect the same results with cheaper imitations. . . . Distributed by E. Fougere & Co., Inc., New York.

"Best Anecdotes of the War"

ALMOST every one who saw service in the world conflict remembers at least one story he thought a perfect gem—either for humor, irony, tragedy, or an account of a most unusual happening.

So that others may enjoy these stories, The Post-Dispatch invites war veterans to send them in for publication. Two dollars will be paid for every anecdote printed, and an extra ten dollars will be awarded at the end of each week for the best one in that period.

These stories should be told briefly, within 200 words each if possible, and should be accompanied by the name and address of the sender, with name of outfit in the war. Please do not send pictures or documents or anything that has to be returned.

Those who saw service, in any department, at home or abroad, are eligible.

Address communications to Magazine Editor, Prize Department, St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

PUBLIC MEETINGS AND ENTERTAINMENTS

The Public School Patrons' Alliance will hold a ceremony of installation for its officers for the ensuing year at the Board of Education assembly room tonight. The installation will be in charge of Probate Judge Holtkamp. The officers, elected last month, are headed by Joseph C. Schroeder, an attorney, who succeeds himself as president.

Arthur A. Blumeyer, president of the Board of Education, and Hugh K. Wagner, attorney, will address a meeting of the Beaumont High School Patrons' Association Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the school. Tax maintenance will be discussed.

Robert P. Bascom, vice president and general manager of the Shell Pipe Line Corporation, will lecture and present motion pictures showing the construction and operation of oil pipe lines at a meeting of the Engineers' Club of St. Louis Thursday night at 8:15 o'clock at the club, 4359 Lindell boulevard.

Dr. Ellis Fischel of the staff of

Barnard Skin and Cancer Hospital

will deliver a stereoscopic lecture on "Cancer" at the Railroad Y. M. C. A. tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

A symposium upon "Physical and Chemical Views of the Atomic Structure" will be presented before the Washington University Chapter of Sigma Xi, chemistry society, at 8:15 o'clock Friday evening in the Rebeck Hall auditorium. Speakers will be Dr. A. L. Hughes, Dr. L. A. DuBridge, Dr. H. L. Ward and Dr. J. H. Gardner. An open discussion will be led by Dr. G. E. M. Jauncey.

Spaghetti and Eggs
Cook one-half pound spaghetti in salted water for 20 minutes. Drain in a colander. Have ready six hard-boiled eggs and one cup tomato puree. Cut the eggs in quarters and heat them in the tomato puree. Arrange the spaghetti in a circle on a hot dish. Put the eggs in the center, sprinkle with grated cheese and paprika and then a dusting of minced parsley and serve.

If the table cloth is accidentally cut, place a strip of adhesive tape underneath and press oilcloth down on it. If neatly done the mend will scarcely be visible.

Says America Will Dominate Fashions

HE "best dressed woman in the world," although herself English, believes that American women dominate the world of fashion today.

"Since the war, I think, all clothes have been designed for the American woman," says the Hon. Mrs. Reginald Fellows, British beauty who has won the title of the most perfectly groomed figure in international society, in an ## Interview published in Harper's Bazaar for February.

"America has influenced Paris clothes enormously. You are so modern and so youthful that all the world wants to ape you. Of course, you Americans have the most beautiful figures in the world; that gives you a great start."

She finds one discordant note, however, on her visit to New York. "Your women have a tendency to overdress in the evenings. Dining in speakasies and hunting for taxis after the theater do not go with full evening dress. Smart afternoon clothes would be so much better for that sort of thing."
